Africans Make Bid In U.N. For Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Africans on the U.N. Security Council were reported looking today for some way the council could help settle the war in Viet Nam.

Council diplomats said Mali, Nigeria and Uganda were seeking to get some general agreement on the subject before the council went into the full Viet Nam debate that it decided late Wednesday to hold on the request of the United States.

One African stressed that they were still sounding out other countries for some breakthrough and were not yet talking about submitting a resolution. But a non-African speculated that the Africans might eventually submit a resolution calling for a reduction of hostilities and a new Geneva conference on Viet Nam without advance conditions.

Soviet-Veto Feared
The United States already has a resolution before the council calling for unconditional discussions among interested governments to arrange a conference to secure application of the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements on Indochina. But the U.S. resolution is expected to run into a Soviet veto if it goes to a vote as it stands.

The council's decision to debate "the situation in Viet Nam" was a hairline victory for the United States, which brought the war to the U.N. Monday after its turn-of-the-year peace offensive failed and it ended its 37-day pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

After the council voted to hold the debate, it adjourned indefinitely to allow for informal discussion among its 15 members on "the most effective way" of proceeding with the debate.

The U.S. request for a debate got the nine votes necessary for its adoption after Jordanian delegate Waleed M. Sadi received last-minute instructions from his government to cast the crucial ninth vote in its favor. There were two votes against a debate and four abstentions.

Besides Jordan and the United States, those in favor were Argentina, Britain, Nationalist China, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand and Uruguay. Those against were the Soviet Union and Bulgaria. Those abstaining were France, Mali, Nigeria and Uganda.

Meeting Monday?
Council President Akira Matsu of Japan told newsmen he did not expect to hold another council meeting before Monday because members would need the rest of this week to agree on a timetable for the coming business.

The Soviet Union has repeatedly turned down proposals from Britain, the other co-chairman of the earlier Geneva conferences, that they call a new one to deal with the war in Viet Nam.

But U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was publicly optimistic. He told newsmen the vote to hold the debate showed "an overwhelming sentiment in the Security Council" that the matter ought to be discussed at the conference table in Geneva.

Eastern States Shovel Out, New Snow Unnoticed

By The Associated Press
New snow ranging from flurries to two inches or so fell today almost unnoticed in the drift-laden East where digging out by snowbound dwellers continued.

Another night of cold pushed freezing temperatures as far south as northern Florida, but there was little threat to fruit and vegetable crops which survived even lower temperatures early in the week.

In the Far West, a vigorous new storm brought rain, and gale warnings were posted along the north Pacific Coast from Half Moon Bay in Northern California to Tatoosh Island, Wash.

New frigid air moved south across the Canadian border into the upper Plains with 20-below-zero temperatures.

Emergency Continues
A state of emergency continued in Oswego, N.Y., on the shore of Lake Ontario, where 102 inches of snow accumulation had blown into 20-to-30-foot drifts.

Main arteries in Oswego and in Syracuse which had 55 inches of snowfall from one of the century's worst storm onslaughts were open, but officials said it would be at least Friday before most secondary streets and highways could be made passable.

An inch of new snow fell during the night at Binghamton, N.Y., and similar amounts were received at Wilmington, Del., and Blairsville, Pa., in the now paralyzed region. Salisbury, Md., measured two inches of fresh snow.

Schools in Onondaga County, N.Y., are expected to remain closed until Monday. New York State counted 23 deaths attributed to rigors of the week's weather. At least 187 storm deaths occurred in the nation.

Death Toll 23
In hard-hit Maryland where 23 weather deaths were reported, most schools remained closed as crews struggled to free more highways. Baltimore's public and parochial schools were to reopen today.

Accumulations in Maryland ranged up to 56 inches in Frostburg, and drifts were heavy in many sections.

Dedicated Wife Dies With Invalid Husband

SPARTA, Ill. (AP) — For the last year, Mrs. Clifford Reed gave nearly all her time to her invalid husband. Tuesday, she apparently gave her life for him.

Fire struck their two-story frame home that night and despite shouted pleas from neighbors, Mrs. Reed, 62, apparently chose to remain with her husband of 28 years. He was 63.

Her body was found lying beside his in an upstairs bedroom. Death was attributed to smoke inhalation.

"Susan was a very, very devoted, a very, very dutiful wife," said Mrs. Lester Walker, a neighbor. "Unusually so."

"She stayed with him constantly. The few times she left him to go shopping or run an errand, she was always rushing to get back to him."

Fire Chief Burdell Menke said she left her husband once during the fire to come downstairs to accompany an unidentified telephone repairman to her husband's room.

The repairman, however, was driven off by smoke and flames and had to escape on hands and knees, neighbors said.

"Apparently, Mrs. Reed didn't elect to do so," Menke said.

Her husband had been in poor health for about eight years. He had not been out of the house in five years and was confined to bed the last year after injuring his hip in a fall.

She had worked for a cleaning establishment in town and then at a nursing home, said her sister, Mrs. Gus Falkenheim of Baldwin, Ill.

Mrs. Reed quit her job last year to take care of her husband. They lived on money she had saved and money she earned by mending and sewing.

"There were no children," she said. "She had been active in several organizations before," said Mrs. Clyde Bradley, "but she gave them up in order to take care of her husband."

"She was truly a devoted wife."

The Great Society:

$3,000 Minimum Income Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon commission recommended to President Johnson and Congress today that every American family be guaranteed a minimum annual income.

The annual cost of such a plan was said to range from $2 billion to $20 billion, depending on its scope. As many as 35 million Americans could be affected if a minimum income level was fixed at $3,000 a year.

This was but one of dozens of ambitious recommendations that grew out of a year-long study by a 14-member National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress. The group was created by Congress and appointed by Johnson to study "technological unemployment and related problems."

Many of the commission findings are certain to arouse controversy. Perhaps anticipating this, it said "today's more advanced ideas will be common-place tomorrow."

The guaranteed income idea was labeled worthy of further study in Johnson's economic report to Congress last month. Under the plan, the federal government would make up the difference between a family's actual income and a fixed minimum standard.

Almost every recommendation drew unanimous support from the panel, which included such prominent citizens of diverse viewpoints as board chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr. of IBM Corp., and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Among the unanimous recommendations in the 210-page report were these:

— The federal government should become "employer of last resort" for the hard-core jobless, paying them to work in local hospitals, schools, police departments and other "useful community enterprises." It urged that 500,000 jobs be provided initially at a first-year cost of about $2 billion with the program expanding steadily over a five-year period.

— Every young American should be offered free education for two years after graduation from high school. Students would move on to community colleges or vocational schools.

— Blue collar workers who are now paid hourly when they work should be paid regular salaries, like white collar employees so they would have greater stability of income and additional fringe benefits.

— Social Security benefits should be increased and public welfare programs should be reformed and made more generous.

— The federal government should set a national model building code and deny certain assistance, such as Federal Housing Authority mortgages, to communities failing to adopt it.

While predicting many problems, the commission foresaw startling opportunities.

For example it said that if all productivity gains in the next 20 years were taken in the form of additional income, average per person earnings would increase from $3,181 a year to $5,802. If taken in added leisure, the work week could be cut to 22 hours or the standard retirement age could be lowered to 38.

Operation Masher Cripples North Vietnamese Regulars

Viet Nam Debate In U.N. Refuels Johnson Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scheduled U.N. debate on Viet Nam seemed likely today to give fresh impetus to Senate critics voicing apprehension over President Johnson's war policies.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, disapproved with the resumption of North Viet Nam bombing, welcomed the Security Council's decision to debate the question — if not to act on it.

"I think the more light that is shed on the matter the better," he said.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, another critic of the air strikes, said he hopes the United States resolution does not run into a Soviet veto. He added he hopes "there will be full discussion to the end that an honorable settlement can be reached."

Question Bombing
Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for 16 senators who wrote Johnson opposing resumption of bombing, predicted the council's decision in ordering debate will illuminate "the value of frank discussion of international affairs."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who felt it a "terrible mistake" to renew air strikes while asking the United Nations to use its influence to halt hostilities, said he thinks the Senate ought to let the United Nations carry the ball in debating the issue.

But Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another Foreign Relations committee member, said the U.N. debate should not be allowed to delay a resumption of the Foreign Relations inquiry into "the premises that underlie our involvement of the war in South Viet Nam or the course the administration plans to follow."

"We have a continuing responsibility which we can't abdicate," he said.

Move Defeated

Although the Senate slapped down, 52 to 31, a move to reopen the Foreign Relations Committee hearings in which Secretary of State Dean Rusk has undergone critical questioning, this involved only a brief lull before the storm resumes.

The committee decides today whether to circumvent the rule against meeting while the Senate is in session by holding either early-morning or night sessions.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said he would not insist that Rusk return to the stand until after the committee concludes action on the $415-million foreign aid supplement authorization now before it.

Although Wednesday's vote came on a parliamentary side issue, those who are itching to get at Rusk again and to have testimony from military men critical of the course of the war made up most of those on the losing side.

Near 'No Return'
In effect, they welded a phalanx of critics of the resumption of bombing, advocates of limited military action and those who, as Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., told the Senate Wednesday, fear that "we are approaching the point of no return for World War III."

Enough senators put themselves in this formation to make it certain that Johnson cannot avoid the kind of public debate over his policies upon which he obviously thinks the Communists will capitalize.

School Bus Hits Trailer, Report 4 Students Dead

BROOKSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A school bus and a rock-loaded truck-trailer collided at a rural intersection today and officers said at least four youngsters were killed.

"We know of four dead and there may be more," a sheriff's office dispatcher said. "Several injured were taken to the hospital, but we don't know how many."

Sheriff Sim Loman said the school bus smashed into the side of the truck and overturned.

The accident occurred at the intersection of State 41 and U.S. 98, about six miles east of Brooksville. Brooksville is about 40 miles north of Tampa on Florida's West Coast.

MRS. IRENE DURR testified for the state that she heard "a horrible scream and the furious barking of a dog" the night Jacques Mossler was beaten and stabbed to death. Mrs. Durr is manager of the apartment house at Miami, Fla., where the Mosslers lived at the time of the murder. (AP Wirephoto)

Florida Murder Trial Continues

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state calls the first of its star witnesses today in the murder trial of blonde Candace Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

He is Roscoe Brown, a Negro handyman and chauffeur in the Mossler household.

"I would call him a key witness," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told newsmen.

The tall, dark-haired prosecutor is pressing a circumstantial murder case. As far as is known, he has no eye-witnesses to the 1964 slaying of Mrs. Mossler's multimillionaire husband, Jacques.

The state says that on the afternoon of June 29, 1964, Brown washed the drainboard and top of the dishwasher in Mossler's apartment.

Knifed To Death
Mossler, 69, was bludgeoned and knifed to death in the apartment at 1:45 a.m.

"Upon standing for prints on the kitchen counter and the dishwasher top, no prints were found except a palm print of Melvin Lane Powers," the state said in its opening statement to an all-male jury.

Thus the state hopes through Brown to place Powers on the murder scene somewhere around the time Mossler died.

Driver Record Hush-Hush Dies

LANSING (AP) — A bill to keep point system records of erring drivers confidential died in the Senate Wednesday when it was defeated back to committee.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, sponsor of the measure, said he agreed to let the bill die in committee because he didn't think he had enough votes to get it through the Senate at this time.

10-Day Assault Kills 707 Reds, Captures 120

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied spokesmen said today that Operation Masher has savagely crippled a North Vietnamese regiment and badly mauled a mixed regiment of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

They called the 10-day-old drive in the coastal lowlands near Bong Son, 300 miles northeast of Saigon, the heaviest blow ever dealt the troops from North Viet Nam.

A total of 707 Communists were reported killed by the Allied forces, with the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division accounting for the highest count of 514, spokesmen said. In addition, 120 enemy soldiers were reported captured and as many as 75 per cent of the 506 suspects detained were identified as Viet Cong.

War Planes Strike
U.S. Air Force and Navy planes attacked North Viet Nam for the fourth consecutive day, striking at storage areas, highways, bridges and shipping, but bad weather again prevented accurate assessment of damage. No planes were reported lost.

But spokesmen announced the loss of three in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours with two Americans and three Vietnamese killed and one American pilot rescued unhurt.

The American, South Vietnamese and Korean troops in Operation Masher were continuing the hunt for a third Communist regiment of about 1,200 men, possibly all North Vietnamese, still reported in the area.

The Allied force encountered only light sniper fire in the past 24 hours. The cavalrymen probed an area on the western side of the 13-mile-square battle zone which was heavily pounded by Air Force B-52s from Guam Wednesday in an effort to cut off the Communist escape.

Destroy Bombers
The Americans reported that the bombers had destroyed numerous bunkers and trenches. Some equipment and torn uniforms were found but the Communists appeared to have carried away their dead and wounded.

The U.S. 101st Airborne Division ran into a company of Viet Cong regulars, in field helmets and camouflaged uniforms, about six miles west of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 240 miles northeast of Saigon. Moderately heavy fighting erupted after the Communists pinned down one of the division's wire communications teams.

Cemetery Slapped With Another Suit In Burial Fraud
DETROIT (AP) — A $15 million suit charging Brookdale Cemetery with negligence, breach of contract, fraud and misrepresentation was filed Wednesday in the 1963 burial of a Detroit man whose grave has not been found.

The suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Ollie McGee, mother of the late Robert L. Dowdy, and Dowdy's two brothers.

Named in the suit were the Brookdale Cemetery Association, Brookdale Memorial Park, former manager Sydney List, former Brookdale receiver John Starrs and McFall Brothers Funeral Home of Detroit.

Two exhumations have failed to locate Dowdy's body.

The suit brings to $23 million the amount of suits filed on behalf of persons claiming inability to locate graves of relatives in the Livonia cemetery.

Marines Kill 28
U.S. Marines who launched Operation Double Eagle last Friday with the biggest amphibious landing since Inchon, in the Korean War, reported their patrols have killed 28 Viet Cong.

But there were no reports of heavy fighting in the sector 25 miles north of the area in which the Masher forces were operating. Leatherneck casualties were reported light.

In the raids on North Viet Nam, spokesmen said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck a storage area and two bridges close to Vinh and two more spans between Vinh and Thanh Hoa, 80 miles to the north.

Navy jets from 7th Fleet carriers hit highways, bridges and storage dumps and sank a North Vietnamese patrol boat 40 miles south of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's main port, the spokesmen added.

Medical Arts Center Planned By Pat Hayes

Delta County Board of Supervisors meeting Wednesday night at the Delta County Building accepted a bid of $3,500 from Harold C. (Pat) Hayes, owner of the House of Ludington, for purchase of the site of the former Delta County Jail.

The triangular site is on 1st Ave. S., 3rd St. and Ogden Ave. Hayes says he is planning incorporation of a non-profit corporation to erect the Herbert J. Norton Medical Arts Building on the site. It would be a memorial to his late friend, head of Clairmont Transfer Co. and Northern Motor Builders Corp., to provide office space for physicians, dentists, a pharmacy, and "perhaps a lunchroom."

The Board of Supervisors referred Hayes' bid to its Building and Grounds Committee, Lawrence J. Jacobs, chairman, which recommended acceptance. The acceptance was conditioned by a provision for reversion to county ownership if a medical facility is not constructed on the property in a year.

The county had offered the property for sale twice after construction of the new Delta County Jail, which was commissioned in December, 1964.

The bids for demolition of the old jail brought a bid for the site deemed unacceptable by the county board, and its advertisements of Sept. 8-9-10, 1965 brought no bids on the site.

The property, originally platted for four lots, three on 3rd St. and one at the rear, measures 278 feet on 1st Ave. S., 349 feet on Ogden and 211 feet on S. 3rd St.

Hayes said he was conferring with Congressman Raymond Cleveland on federal aid on the construction project, designed to concentrate some of the community's medical services in one facility.

Early contact lenses for the eyeball were made of glass but, after 1938, plastic lenses came into use.

Survey Fallout Shelter Needs

A survey of buildings in Delta County to locate additional fallout shelters began today by the Corps of Engineers, with the survey to be completed within a month, it is announced by Mason Johnson, Delta County Civil Defense director.

The announcement came in connection with a conference of CD directors from five U.P. counties with Michigan CD officials and Corps of Engineers officers at the County Building in Escanaba.

The purpose of the meeting was to familiarize the directors with the community shelter utilization planning, shelter survey, and other aspects of the Civil Defense program.

Delta County now has 19 approved fallout shelters capable of housing approximately 70 per cent of the county's population, Johnson reported.

Twelve structures are to be surveyed to determine their suitability as shelters and if all are approved the protection percentage will be increased to about 85 per cent of the population.

Structural strength, thickness of walls and other factors are considered. Approval may be expected within two months.

The original survey was conducted in 1962 and the new survey is an updating of that survey. Building owners interested in having their places surveyed to determine its possibilities as a fallout shelter are asked to call Johnson at ST 6-7228.

Capt. Jack Nemrava, Lansing, Deputy State Civil Defense Director; Rudy Menchl, Region IV Office of Civil Defense, Battle Creek; Pershing Trembath, area coordinator for the U.P.; and A. C. Wanket, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Detroit conducted the meeting.

Delta, Dickinson, Iron, Marquette and Menominee counties were represented by their Civil Defense directors.

1-Man, 1-Vote Creates Muddle For Michigan

By JEAN WORTH

Michigan's difficulty in governing itself well is shown starkly in its current floundering with apportionment.

Apportionment is the system by which the state's legislators are chosen. It sets up the system of representation in law making and is thus the basic safeguard of self-government.

Periodic reapportionment of representation has been required by law in Michigan but, as Hamlet observed, has been more honored in the breach than in the observance.

The controlling party in the Legislature used or misused reapportionment for its own purposes. In recent years the trend of population to the big cities has left them under-represented in the Legislature and the country areas over-represented.

This situation tended to hurt the Democrats and help the Republicans, because the Democrats were stronger in urban areas and the Republicans stronger in rural areas.

The new Michigan Constitution of 1963 provided for a Legislature of 38 senators and 110 representatives. The Legislature was to be reapportioned in 1963 and every 10 years thereafter on a basis of population for the House, and of population 80 per cent and area 20 per cent in the Senate.

The U. S. Supreme Court in June, 1964 ruled that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population. This upset the new Michigan Constitution plan for apportionment, but it was not immediately apparent how much it upset it, nor is this clear yet. What has not been determined by U. S. Supreme Court or Michigan State Supreme Court is the degree of population variance that would be permitted between districts.

Population Exactitude
It is impossible to make representative and senatorial districts of exactly equal numbers of voters, because populations keep changing. It becomes necessary, then, to determine what degree of variance in population will be acceptable in creating election districts.

If the variance were liberal, the other factors prescribed for the districts the compactness, shape, etc.—could be given more weight. The majority of the Michigan Court justices said that effect should be given to the apportionment provisions of the Michigan Constitution which had survived the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on population.

To apportion Michigan every 10 years the new state Constitution created an 8-member commission on legislative apportionment with four Republican members and four Democratic members. (If there were a third party it could become a tripartisan 12-member commission.)

Built-In Bias

This commission has a built-in bias, of course. The Republicans want apportionment favoring their party and the Democrats want apportionment favoring theirs. The Republicans say the Democrats won with the Austin-Kleiner plan of apportionment used in the 1964 elections, which changed the complexion of the Legislature from Republican majority to Democratic majority. Republicans said that the way the districts were drawn set up the Democratic majority in the Senate.

The Republicans asked the Michigan Supreme Court to review the Austin-Kleiner apportionment plan. The court asked the apportionment commission to suggest improvements. The Democrats stood pat on Austin-Kleiner and the Republicans proposed a plan which would favor their fortunes at the polls while reducing the population variance of Austin-Kleiner and improving its misshapen districts and crossing of county lines. There was also an intervenor, Civic Searchlight Inc., of Detroit, a non-partisan, fact-finding agency organized in 1912 to promote good government in the Detroit area. It proposed a plan with less population variance than any of the others.

Court Chided

When the apportionment commission couldn't agree the problem went back to the Michigan Supreme Court and there it rests today. The public this week has had the remarkable suggestion from one of the court's own justices, Eugene Black, that it will do nothing about it.

Black, a maverick and a Fearless Frank, issued a "Writ of Arousal" in which he chided the court for failing to exercise its constitutional powers to order adoption of an apportionment plan following failure of the bipartisan legislative apportionment commission to reach agreement.

If the court doesn't act the Austin-Kleiner plan remains in effect. Any criticism of the 1964 State Constitution as responsible for the impasse misses the target, said Black. He said the fault is not the Constitution's but the court's.

Failing justice, Black even suggested, (perhaps with tongue in cheek) that the court order the apportionment commission back into session and have it to draw lots to eliminate one member, which would give the other party control.

Soviet Spaceship Due To Hit Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet spaceship Luna 9 will reach the moon shortly after midnight tonight — 4:16 p.m. EST, Soviet sources reported today.

Officially there has been no word on the Lunik since its launching was announced nearly three days ago.

Luna 9 is assumed to be another Soviet attempt to make history's first soft landing on the moon so the spaceship could transmit observations on the lunar surface. This would give the country a big lead over the United States in the race to put a man on the moon.

County Board:

Sheriff To Get Radio Equipment

The Delta County Board of Supervisors authorized its purchasing committee headed by Supervisor Joseph Goodman of Brampton to advertise for bids for new radio equipment for the Sheriff's Department.

Estimated cost to replace the present nine-year-old equipment is around $5,300.

Included will be three mobile units for Sheriff's patrol cars, a repeater unit for the office and an all-transistor control for the department antenna on the Road Commission tower.

Sheriff C. A. (Cully) Johnson said the radios are something the department has needed for over a year. Units currently in use are obsolete and impractical to replace, he said.

Action on the request for radios was one of a handful of items up for consideration at the meeting, which was reconvened from October recess at the call of Chairman Charles Sedenquist of Wells.

Make Appropriations

Additional appropriations of $11,945 to the Delta-Menominee District Health Dept. and $800 to the Civil Defense travel budget were approved, as were two requests concerning Pinecrest Medicare Facility lands which are jointly owned by Delta, Menominee and Dickinson County.

The Board approved selective logging of harvestable timber on about 400 acres of Pinecrest land. A joint committee of the three county boards will let bids on the timber and negotiate prices.

Delta County also decided to Menominee County its share in a 41.4 acre tract of Pinecrest lands which have been developed as a park by civic clubs from Powers-Spaulding. The park is located about a half-mile west of the U.S. 2-41 intersection in Powers.

Menominee County requested ownership of the land so its Road Commission could take over responsibility for maintenance of the park from Powers civic groups. Delta County agreed to the transfer with the stipulation that if the land ever be used for other than public recreation purposes it would revert to the original owner, Delta County.

Health Dept. appropriation was a supplement to an original budgeted sum of $12,280, making Delta County's total contribution for the bi-county agency $24,205, a savings of $3,295 from the 1965 budget.

Reduction in cost to Delta County was realized through application of a new state formula which switches financial apportionment between counties from population to state equalized tax valuation. Delta County's share of Health Dept. expenses was reduced from 58 to 55 per cent under the new formula.

Table Retirement

In other business, the board tabled to its April meeting discussion on a retirement plan for county employees; approved inclusion of liability and fire insurance for county-operated parks in the county's general package policy; tabled a request to purchase an organ for Pinecrest; granted a five cent increase in reimbursement to the Sheriff's department for each meal served to prisoners, and, approved a resolution asking that liens on automobiles be filed with the Register of Deeds instead of the Secretary of State's office.

The Board also accepted the resignation of Supervisor Jacob Bink of Escanaba and approved a resolution thanking him for his 14 years of service on the board. Bink resigned because of ill health.

Clark Greenles Dies Wednesday

Clarkson Greenles, 79, of Rte. 1 Gladstone (Groos) died at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for the past 34 days.

Separate Hunt Seasons Urged

LANSING (AP) — A separate season for hunting does and fawns is proposed in a bill filed for introduction by Rep. Clifford Smart, R-Walled Lake.

This is the latest in a series of deer bills introduced that have included proposals for a two-year ban on shooting antlerless deer and a one-year moratorium on such hunting in the Upper Peninsula.

Smart said the purpose of his bill basically is to improve hunter safety.

"If we are going to allow an open season on all deer then we should have a separate antlerless season to prevent hunters from shooting at anything that moves," Smart said. "Separate seasons would necessitate greater care by hunters to insure that their target is legal."

The bill would establish a separate season for taking deer of either sex five days after the season for shooting bucks with antlers more than three inches long.

Bombers To Fly Joint Training Mission Friday

K. I. SAWYER AFB—U. S. Air Force Bombers of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) will participate with air defense forces of the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) in a joint training exercise overflying Central Canada and United States during early morning hours on Friday, Feb. 4.

Over the United States, exercise bombers and fighters will overfly on area from Michigan to Montana and south to Arkansas and Tennessee.

Subsonic B-52 Global Range bombers will fly toward simulated targets at high and low altitude close to U. S. cities in 14 states and several cities in Canada.

Air traffic control officials in Canada and the United States have received advance information on this exercise and no suspension of normal civil air traffic is expected. The exercise will not last longer than one hour over any particular land area.

Tech Researchers In Pacific

New Zealand Ores Studied

HOUGHTON — A man is rarely forced to work through three winters, back to back, so to speak, but a staff member at Michigan Tech had that experience during the past year.

M. E. Volin, director of Tech's Institute of Mineral Research, left Houghton for New Zealand in mid-February, 1965, on a Fulbright-Hayes advanced research grant. When he arrived in New Zealand, it was winter there too and when he returned to Houghton last month, it was winter again.

However, Volin said winter in New Zealand is not the same as it is in Houghton. But what winters are? Not as much snow, but a lot of cold rain; not as cold there, but a lot of sleet blown by strong winds. "It wasn't too bad," he said, "and I was too involved in my project to pay much attention to the weather."

Volin conducted his research at the University of Otago, in Dunedin. He studied the problems of utilizing extensive deposits of heavy mineral-bearing sands which are located along the west coast of the South Island. These deposits, according to him, constitute one of New Zealand's most important mineral resources. On the basis of his research, Volin came to the conclusion that the minerals can be used to the country's benefit.

Mineral deposits there include ilmenite, used to make white pigment for paints; zircon, used in ceramics and in atomic applications; monazite, used primarily in alloying and polishing; garnet, used in making an abrasive for wood; magnetite, and gold.

Volin, accompanied by his wife, also spent a little time trying to see some of the scenic features of New Zealand. These included the Milford Sound Country, which looks like the fjord areas of Norway, Mt. Cook, New Zealand's highest mountain, and Coronet Peak, New Zealand's finest ski resort.

Detroit Faces Fifth Trial For Murdering Wife

DETROIT (AP)—George Darryl Flatter, 26, accused of murdering in the death of a Detroit housewife six years ago, began his record-breaking fifth trial for the offense Wednesday.

Flatter was convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Moulter, 46, in 1960. The conviction was set aside when it was discovered jurors had received information not brought out in the trial.

The second trial ended in a hung jury in October, 1960.

Flatter was convicted of second-degree murder at his third trial in March, 1961 and sentenced to 35-45 years imprisonment.

The fourth trial was granted when it was discovered detectives who questioned Flatter originally failed to advise him of his constitutional rights to counsel.

That trial ended last December when jurors were found to have overheard conversation about the case while not in the courtroom.

Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport was reassigned the case.

That Good Feeling

Escanaba Area School District voters balloted 2,123 to 1,458 on Tuesday to construct some new elementary school buildings in the district. The heavy Yes vote was exceeded by another vote, 2,577 to 1,374, to extend a 3 mill tax for school operation.

This strong support of schooling in the Escanaba Area comes after three defeats of school building proposals. Yet the voters accepted overwhelmingly the biggest school tax package which has ever been proposed to them.

Why did they do it?
For one thing there was a forceful campaign of education on the issues, headed by Forrest Henslee as chairman of the board of education's campaign committee. There was very broad participation of the community in support of the proposals. But there had been forceful presentations in the past that ended in defeats.

Perhaps the situation parallels our lives, in which we're said to die a little every day. Perhaps we never really lose an election in a good cause like education, but we build an eventual triumph in the war on a series of defeats in battles. Each trial makes some converts and broadens the public understanding of what education is about.

An election on schooling tends to become a debate on taxes: whether or not it is desirable to spend the sum requested. More properly the debate should determine whether we want to be without the benefits of the schooling involved. The means of support for good living are at hand; it is only a question of what portion of them the community thinks should be devoted to schooling.

Some people, happy in the largest incomes of their lives, don't want their new affluence "spoiled" by tax demands which will take it away, but there is no part of the new affluence more precious than the new enlightenment. Schooling is its price. Our voters seem to have accepted this view of things as never before in Tuesday's election.

Only two precincts in all 10 voted against the construction proposal and all of them voted for the operating millage. The tax should care for the district's school building needs for a decade or two unless there's some unforeseen influx of population and, even more important, it should help foster a community spirit of venture and growth.

The election result represents a triumph of spirit that must have involved many acts of courage and of sacrifice, because affluence never rests evenly upon any community. It is much more difficult for some to pay their taxes than for others. The hope and promise of the victory is that it will nourish the kind of community which will provide more opportunities for its people.

The vote was also heartening because for the first time the new Escanaba Area School District voted that strongly as a district, unified and standing together, not as a collection of townships and a city with diverse interests but a common school system. This is an achievement in community organization as commendable as the support of schooling.

It is not easy to get communities to pool their resources to organize better services for their people, but this was done with the creation of the area school district and now it has had its finest expression of solidarity in Tuesday's election.

Earlier the debts of the component districts were consolidated to bring the greater resources of the area district to their payment. Now the elementary school housing problem has been solved and the operational income continued. We're learning to live with bigness and it's a need of modern life.

The Doctor Says:

Plagues Still With Us

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstad
In the epidemics of plague in 17th century Europe, 60 percent of the victims died. No such epidemics have occurred in this country but the disease is still with us. Six or more cases were reported in 1965 in the western states. Because doctors no longer see enough cases to be familiar with the disease, it may go unrecognized until it is too late for effective treatment.

The germ that causes plague is present in the blood of rodents that have become immune — chiefly rats, squirrels and prairie dogs. The fleas that feed on the blood of these animals may be transferred to another animal or a man and in biting the new host inject their saliva containing the plague germs. Thus living in an area where plague-infected fleas abound may result in an attack of the disease even without direct contact with any rodent.

After an incubation period of two days to two weeks the victim gets chills, fever and a headache. His lymph nodes become enlarged and tender and hemorrhages appear under the skin. This form is called bubonic plague. Less common is the pneumonic form which is characterized by a loose cough and shortness of breath. This form is especially dangerous because it can be spread from man to man through the inhalation of the droplets propelled into the air by the victim in a fit of coughing.

A scientist from Boston contracted plague on a visit to New Mexico. He flew home during the incubation period and did not feel ill until several days later. He had the bubonic form of the disease but, if it had been the pneumonic form, Boston might well have suffered a serious epidemic of plague. As it was, the cause of his disease was not recognized in time to save his life.

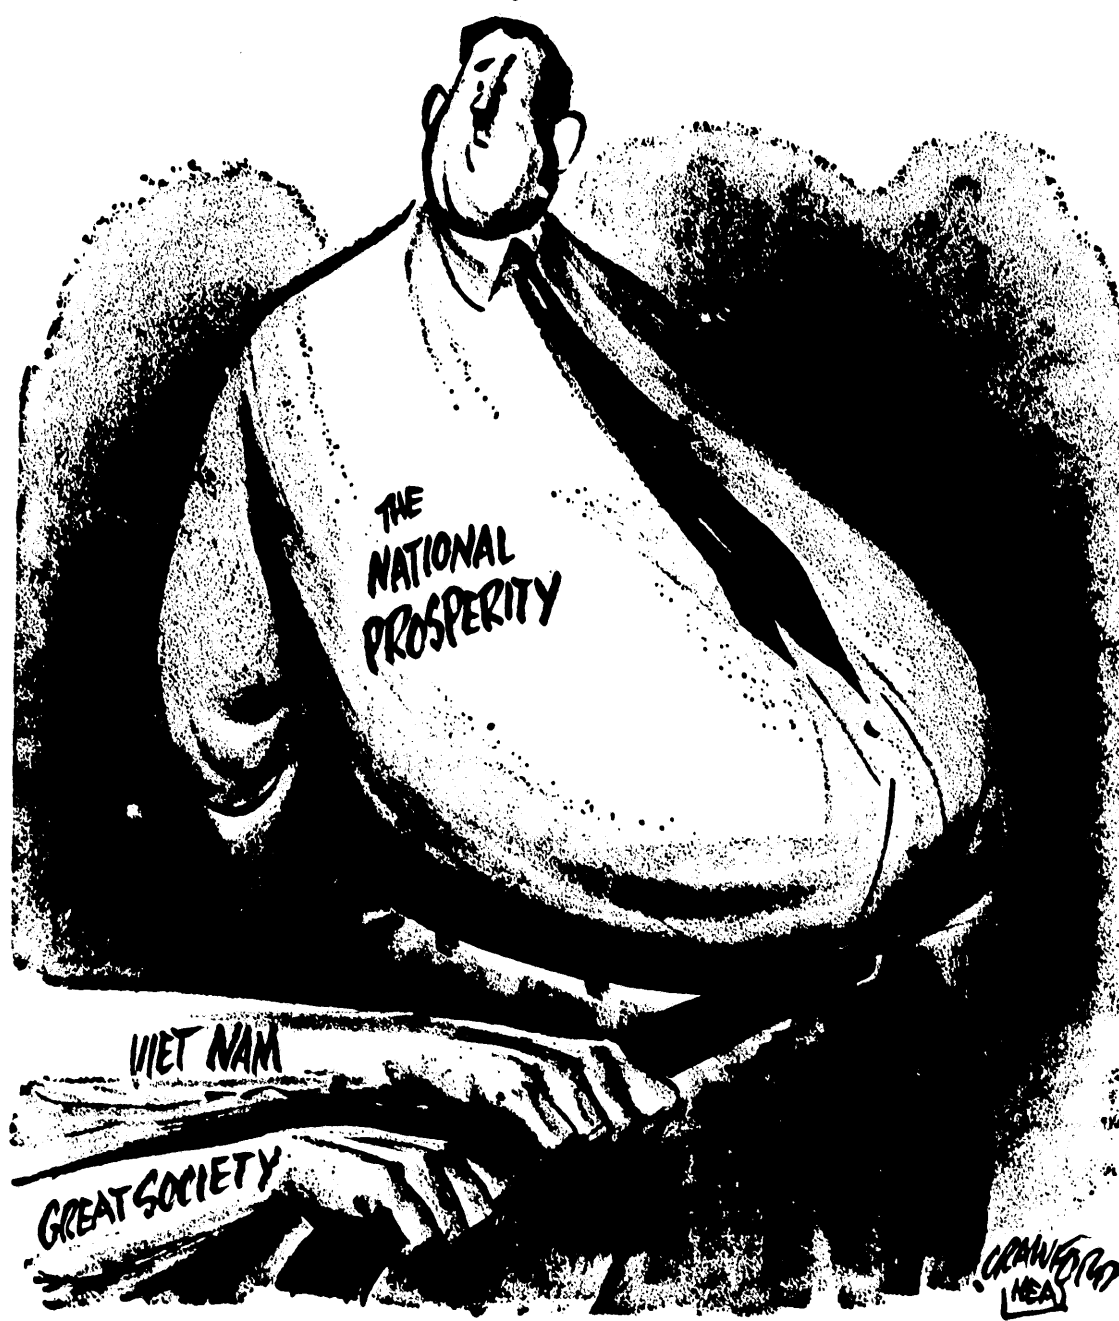

Sulfas drugs and such antibiotics as streptomycin and the tetracyclines, when given early in the course of the disease, shorten the course and result in a cure but, to be on the safe side, most doctors also give an antitoxin. Prevention, however, is far better than cure. In areas where the disease is reported, intensive insect and rodent control measures must be applied and the population should be advised itself of plague vaccine.

The Squeeze Is On

U.S. Maps Drive

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Expect a major sustained U.S. offensive in South Viet Nam to begin this spring.

The timing is set by the "date" on which the required additional combat troops are on the spot and worked in, the big U.S. intelligence network expansion is completed, the major new bases are ready and the supply-line bottlenecks ironed out.

(All this assumes, of course, that Ho Chi Minh rejects President Johnson's peace offers.) Operations can't be expanded markedly until U.S. commanders are able to pin down exact information of VC mainline regiments, battalions and companies while they're assembling so as to catch them off balance.

This requires a substantial build-up and reorganization of intelligence operations. Present supply channels couldn't sustain the heavy continuous harassment against Ho's battalions in all four war areas at once with stepped-up numbers of U.S. units operating. Yet this is needed to get the VC off balance, so they're ripe for chewing up.

At present, ships off South Viet Nam may wait weeks to unload. There is a lack of warehousing. There can be a shortage of one type of equipment or another in the battalion, when ships loaded with these supplies are waiting to be unloaded.

Tiny, economically underdeveloped South Viet Nam hasn't the harbors, docks, roads, airstrips or warehouses to handle normal commerce adequately. Its facilities certainly have been in no shape to handle the more than 800,000 Vietnamese, United States, Australian, New Zealand and Korean troops in fast-moving battles spotted all over the sprawling 600 north-south miles of South Viet Nam.

These problems are being corrected.

On the supply side, port and storage facilities are being built by forced draft. Roads are being improved. Air and helicopter transport is being expanded at a fast pace.

The intelligence operation is being revamped. Additional troops are on the way.

A major stage of this build-up is expected to be completed in late April or in May. But it may be June before the bugs are out and the operation running smoothly.

Bad weather won't halt the U.S. offensive, American commanders in the field have learned in the past two years that properly planned offensive operations in South Viet Nam need not get bogged down by monsoons (though monsoon operation does require more flexibility, and an ability to shift targets or times to meet the erratic shifts in weather.)

Questions And Answers

Q—What great evangelist was once a major league baseball player?

A—"Billy" Sunday. From 1883 until his conversion in 1890, he played in turn on several teams of the National League.

Q—Is the elephant a carnivorous animal?

A—No, it is a strict vegetarian. Its daily requirements are about a quarter of a ton of green fodder—or about 150 pounds of hay—and 50 gallons of water.

Q—Why do sailors, when calling to another ship, always call out, "Ahoy"?

A—Although it is traditional now, "Ahoy" was originally the battle cry of the Vikings.

Q—When was the first official Thanksgiving Day under the new republic celebrated?

A—On Nov. 26, 1789, following its proclamation by President Washington as a day of national thanksgiving for adoption of the U.S. Constitution.

Q—How much alike are sapphires and rubies?

A—Both are varieties of the gem mineral corundum and differ only in color.

Jaycees Launch Drive To Assist South Vietnamese

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Jaycees have launched a statewide drive known as "Project Free People," aimed at raising $5 million in cash, clothing and food for South Vietnamese civilians.

The Jaycees plan to coordinate their drive with the Marine Corps' "Civil Action Fund," which currently distributes CARE packages in South Viet Nam, and the Navy's "Operation Handclasp," in which bulk gifts are shipped free aboard Navy craft.

Edward James of Clawson is state chairman of the "Project Free People" campaign, and he said that when the national Jaycee convention meets in Detroit in June it is hoped to expand the drive to include the national organization's 250,000 members.

Michigan has 8,000 Jaycee members. The organization formerly was known as Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Reference is made to your letter of Jan. 20 inquiring concerning the circumstances in which a person found to have a chest x-ray free of abnormality in one of our mobile x-ray units was reported to have chest malignancy in a clinical checkup two weeks after receiving the report. There are a number of factors to be considered in this situation.

Miniature chest x-rays have been found to be of very significant value in detecting the presence of previously unknown chest disease since approximately 1940. In discussing programs of this type it is important to bear in mind that the technique is a screening procedure and cannot, in any sense of the word, substitute for a complete chest examination carried out by a physician.

In x-ray screening a uniform technique is followed whereby patients are positioned in front of the machine so as to obtain the best possible front to back view of the chest and its contents. In operations of this type, we are unable to have them remove clothing because of the limitations of time and accommodations on the unit and certain types of material are somewhat obstructive to the x-ray beam and, as a result, can degrade the final picture. Further, a single front-to-back x-ray view such as is obtained on a mobile screening unit does not visualize that portion of the lung behind the dome of the diaphragm. In addition, certain small abnormalities of the chest wall itself are frequently not well visualized, particularly if they occur on the side beneath the arm.

Without knowing exactly what was found on clinical examination in the patient to which you refer, I am unable to make a more accurate determination of what might have occurred in this particular instance, but in addition to those mentioned above, which might have had an influence, I would like to also suggest the following. At the time this patient had the initial screening examination it is possible that the malignancy was so small that it did not cast a shadow on the x-ray film, but, if there was an appreciable time between the date of this examination and the date of the report, the abnormality could have attained sufficient size that it was producing symptoms and could cast a shadow.

It is known that screening procedures lack the accuracy and completeness that is provided by the personal physician's examination where, in addition to the usual x-ray, test, the physician may use a variety of other tests and examinations. The screening procedures are used as aids in detecting individuals who may have the disease being tested for. It is not meant to, nor can it, replace the personal physician's examination of the patient.

Ann Landers

Servicemen Not 'Kicked Around'

Dear Ann Landers: I am shocked at your heartless attitude toward our servicemen. I refer to the sailor's aunt who wrote that her nephew had to wait at the airport several hours before boarding a plane and was then bumped by a first class passenger.

I could hardly believe my eyes when I read your answer: "The airlines and the armed services have worked out the best possible plan to transport the most people at the lowest rates." As if that weren't bad enough, you went on to say that the only way a serviceman can be sure of hanging on to his seat is to forego the military discount and pay the full commercial fare.

It's too bad that you are so far removed from the problems of little people that you are unable to sympathize with them. I'll bet every mother who has a boy in the service would like to snatch you bald for your snobbish reply. — PROUD PEASANT

Dear Proud: You can be sure I received a bale of mail on the letter from "Auntie," but a surprising number of readers thought the woman was out of line and said so. Here is a letter which expresses what I believe is a valid point of view.

Dear Ann: I, too, have a nephew in the service. I feel the airlines are performing a real service by offering men and women in uniform a generous travel bargain.

"Bitter Aunt" said that service people are privileged characters and should be accorded special treatment instead of getting "kicked around." She is right. They ARE privileged characters and they are treated as such. No other group gets to travel for half fare any place in the U.S. and Canada 365 days out of the year.

My nephew is a Marine in Viet Nam. I can assure you he'd be delighted to have the chance to come home, even if it meant sitting around for several hours in several airports before he could get on a home-bound plane. — ANOTHER AUNT

Dear Aunt: I hope you enjoy this next letter from a Lieutenant Colonel. I did.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an officer who travels on the military discount and appreciates the privilege. Something happened to me recently which I think shows the lighter side of as well as the democratic side of the airline's treatment of service people.

As you know, servicemen travel at half fare, on a stand-by basis—first come, first served. This means that the unsold seat goes to the first service man on the spot.

Several weeks ago I arrived at the Los Angeles airport bright and early bound for Dallas. I got a tourist seat in the last row. An enlisted man (and a friend of mine) arrived minutes before the take-off. By that time the tourist section was all filled up so he was given a seat in the luxury section.

Pete said he cried all the way to Dallas thinking of me back in the tourist section while he drank his two scotchies and ate his lobster cocktail and filet mignon—with champagne, yet. And he didn't pay one penny more than I did.—S.A.G. LT. COL. U.S.A.

Harry Paler Dies Suddenly

Harry F. Paler of 832 Sheridan Road, a resident of Escanaba throughout his lifetime, died at St. Francis Hospital at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Death was unexpected. He was 55 years old.

Born in Escanaba on Aug. 5, 1910, he was employed as a top dock worker for the Chicago & North Western Railway, and was a member of the Top Dock Workers Union Local 400.

Mr. Paler was a member of St. Thomas Church and of the Holy Name Society.

Surviving are his wife, the former Eileen Greenwood, two sons, Stephen of Escanaba and Richard of Green Bay; two sisters, Mrs. Rod (Marcella) Beauchamp of Escanaba and Mrs. L. C. (Dolly) Hutten of Bellevue, Ohio; one brother, Raymond of Escanaba; a half-sister, Mrs. B. A. (Lorraine) Caruso of San Jose, Calif.; three half-brothers, Clarence and Robert Grabowski of Escanaba and Lloyd Grabowski of Waukegan, Ill.; and 19 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Friday. Parish prayers will be at 8 p.m. Friday, and funeral services will be held at St. Thomas Church at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Arnold Thompson will officiate and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Russian Nuclear Plan Considered Disarmament Step

GENEVA (AP)—Both Eastern and Western officials today greeted Soviet Premier Alexei Kossygin's atomic curb proposal as a positive step toward nuclear disarmament.

"The message will be studied with care," said U.S. delegate William C. Foster.

Kossygin, in a message Wednesday to the 17-power disarmament conference, vowed Russia will not use atomic weapons first, provided other powers also make the same commitment. He also called for the "immediate conclusion of a treaty on the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons."

Privately, Western officials interpreted the message as part of the continuing Soviet effort not to let the Viet Nam war disrupt the conference.

White Collar Jobs Forecast For Half U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A national commission said today virtually one out of every two workers in the United States will wear a white collar by 1975.

Other highlights of predicted job trends set forth in a 210-page report by the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress:

The number of farm workers will decline by about 950,000 in the next decade.

Payrolls of state and local governments will show the biggest gains, rising by 69 per cent.

Manufacturing industries expected to register the largest increases in number of jobs are instruments and related products, up 38 per cent, and rubber and miscellaneous plastic products, up 34 per cent.

Biggest job declines in manufacturing are anticipated in petroleum refining and related industries, down 13 per cent, and tobacco manufacturers, down 10 per cent.

The commission, created by Congress and appointed by President Johnson, got its figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Total employment in 1975 is forecast at 88.7 million, an increase of 26 per cent over the 1964 level of 70.4 million.

The white-collar workers are expected to number 42.8 million—up 38 per cent from 31.2 million in 1964. The biggest increase in demand will be for professional and technical workers.

New Coins Fail In Post Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Somebody goofed!

A legislator forwarded a complaint from a constituent Wednesday that the new silverless quarters in circulation won't buy stamps from some of Uncle Sam's vending machines.

Rep. Howard H. Callaway, R-Ga., told the House a caller from Columbus, Ga., passed on the word that the post office there has already been alerted.

The constituent quoted a sign over the post office stamp machine.

"Do not use the new quarters in this machine. They will not work," the sign reads.

About 18,000,000 pounds of aspirin are manufactured in the U. S. yearly.

First Step: Choose A Career

CAREER POSSIBILITIES were explored by students of Escanaba High School and Holy Name High School with professional people at sessions held in Holy Name High School Wednesday night. The second sessions will begin at 7 o'clock tonight. Pictured (top) are Dr. Vernon K. Johnson, dentist, (left) and Dr. Donald Fitch M.D., discussing careers in their fields, and (bottom) students interested in careers in cosmetology are advised by Helen Gunkel and Ed Hurley. ## U.S. Air Force 'Flashes' Birds

MOODY AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. (AP)—The Air Force popped a gigantic "flashbulb" Wednesday night that it hopes will mean bye-bye blackbird and so long starting.

As a result of the blinding flash an estimated four million birds may be seeing purple spots in their usual haunts around Moody Air Force Base today.

The 500 - million candle-power photo - flash bomb, which shook the buildings slightly, was designed only to rattle the birds. Moody authorities said the birds are a hazard to aviation at the base.

Observers said the bomb, a device used by the Air Force for night aerial photography, lit up the sky similar to a gigantic flashbulb. How it appeared to the birds was not known, but Moody authorities are hoping it scared them enough to start a migration away from the base.

An evaluation team planned to check the wooded area this afternoon, and if the flash was successful, the birds will be hit by two more flash bombs tonight. And while they're still reeling, authorities will be setting up two more bombs for Friday night.

The targets of the bombs are an estimated four million migratory birds, mainly starlings and blackbirds, which camp in a swampy section east of a runway.

"Within the past three months," a base spokesman said, "we've had 17 reports of birds striking aircraft. One of these caused extensive damage which almost resulted in the loss of a plane."

Detroit Boy, 4, Diphtheria Victim; Officials Worried

DETROIT (AP)—The death of a 4-year-old Detroit boy has been traced to diphtheria—the city's first such death from the contagious disease since 1962.

The victim was Lonnie Hill, 4, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Boxy Hill.

Dr. John F. Hanlon, city-county health commissioner, said the boy died Monday but that diphtheria was not determined as the cause of death until the results of an autopsy were confirmed Wednesday.

Health officials were trying to trace the dead boy's contacts in order to limit chances of a "frighteningly great" epidemic. Hanlon said he said that Detroit's last diphtheria epidemic claimed five lives in 1956-57.

Dr. Paul Sachow, epidemiologist for the City Health Department, said: "We watch for fires. I'm afraid we may have one starting now."

Lear Planning Jet Expansion

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Industrialist William P. Lear Sr. got his first look today at the suburban Grand Rapids plant which houses the instrument division of his Lear Jet Corp.

He coupled it with announcement of plans by his firm to build a six-place turbofan jet airplane, a new helicopter and plans to build a second stereo division plant in an unnamed Southern locale.

Within five years, says Lear, his company will have sales of $200 million to 300 million annually and will build four types of aircraft. He said that with the proposed Southern plant and expanded operations in Grand Rapids, in Wichita, Kan., and Detroit, his total corporate work force will comprise 8,000 to 12,000 persons. Lear Jet Corp., has home offices in Wichita.

Diocesan Council To Hold Winter Board Meeting

The winter quarterly board meeting of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held at Marygrove Retreat House, Feb. 12 and 13, as guests of Bishop Noa with Msgr. Bassett as host.

The first meeting has been scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday with Mrs. Walter McClintock, diocesan president, presiding. During the afternoon and evening meetings the Deanery presidents will report on the activities for the past quarter and the Diocesan committee chairmen will give a brief outline of their program for the coming quarter.

An initial report and plans for the coming convention to be held in Marquette on April 30 and May 1, will be given by Mrs. John F. O'Neill, Marquette Deanery president.

On Sunday morning Stanley Fedewa, assistant to the director of the Michigan Catholic conference will speak to the board on the importance of the Diocesan Legislation committee and its function.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. Dunleavy of St. Ambrose, Ironwood, Spiritual moderator of the MDCCW, will also be in attendance.

Raymond Roberts Enlists In Army

MSgt Kenneth L. Swette, local U. S. Army Recruiter, announces the enlistment of Raymond E. Roberts in the U. S. Army. Roberts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert F. Roberts of 1511 3rd Ave. N., Escanaba.

Roberts is a 1965 graduate of Escanaba High School, will undergo basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and will be assigned to the Army's Airborne Division.

Williams Drops Governor Bid

CADILLAC (AP)—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said Wednesday he has no interest in running for governor again. He said in a television interview his greatest opportunity lay in remaining in his present post or becoming a U.S. senator.

House Squabbles Over Own Delays

LANSING (AP)—The House spent most of a three-hour session Wednesday fighting over how long it is going to postpone fights on a number of topics.

They included: city income taxes, veterans homestead tax exemptions, increased property tax exemptions for farmers and small businessmen and funding of some of the estimated $700 million debt in the teachers retirement fund.

Passed was a bill to ensure that senior citizens whose homes sit on leased land are covered by the property tax exemption passed by the Legislature last year.

The measure would affect an estimated 4,000 over-65 citizens in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula. Many of the homesteads have been built on land belonging to mining companies.

The other measures were debated, then set aside. Much of the debate was over whether they should be postponed or acted on immediately and over how long the delay should be.

Romanians Visit British Isles

LONDON (AP)—A Romanian delegation led by First Deputy Premier Alexandru Birladeanu arrived in London Wednesday for an eight-day visit in Britain. The Romanians were invited by the British government as part of its policy of increasing contacts with Eastern Europe.

Mead Will Add To Macon Plant

MACON, Ga. — A 30,000 square foot addition to the Mead Corp.'s Cochran Plant, near Macon, has been announced by William W. Wommack, vice president.

Mead first began manufacturing operations here in October 1965, in a 20,000 square foot building in Macon's Airport Industrial Park. The plant produces a paperboard product called Kankraft, which is used by Mead's customers in the manufacture of composite cylindrical containers for packaging oil, citrus concentrates and other products.

June 1, 1966, is the target for start-up of the drum manufacturing operations at Macon. About 25 people will be added to the present payroll at that time.

Chrysler, UAW Settle Dispute

DETROIT (AP)—Agreement was reported late Wednesday in a stamping plant strike Chrysler Corp. said was responsible for the layoff of nearly 16,000 workers in Michigan and Ohio.

A membership meeting was scheduled for today by United Auto Workers Local 1284 to discuss the settlement.

The 2,300 local members walked out of the suburban Sterling Township plant last Friday. Later the strikers twice rejected a previous settlement proposal.

In announcing the agreement UAW spokesmen said Chrysler and the union agreed on all issues involved in the strike.

Chrysler had no comment on the agreement.

The union said Chrysler agreed to rehire four men fired last spring for allegedly taking part in a wildcat strike. The rehiring, slated for May 29, was said to be a major issue in the strike.

Other sections of the agreement, according to union spokesmen, provide for improved working conditions and improved methods of policing production standards and job assignments.

The union said a ratification vote would be held Friday.

Circus Aerialist Improved After Plunge In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Luis Murillo, 32, an aerialist who fell 45 feet before a stunned circus crowd of 8,000 Tuesday was "improved, but still in temporarily serious condition" today at a suburban hospital.

"The Great Murillo," a native of Santiago, Chile, was performing at Detroit's annual Shrine Circus.

Walking up a 45-degree slanted wire without a balancing pole or safety net, Murillo lost his footing and fell shortly before reaching his main performing wire.

Hospital officials said Murillo suffered a fractured pelvis, facial injuries and a concussion.

He once was a member of the "Flying Wallendas," high-wire performers who fell at the Shrine Circus here in 1962, killing two members of the team, paralyzing one and injuring two others.

Briefly Told

James Rouman, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, and former Escanaba, is convalescing at his Lansing home after extensive surgery.

Delta Lodge No. 195 F&AM will hold a special communication at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Feb. 4, and at the Anderson Funeral Home at 8 p. m. to conduct Memorial Services for Clark Greenlee.

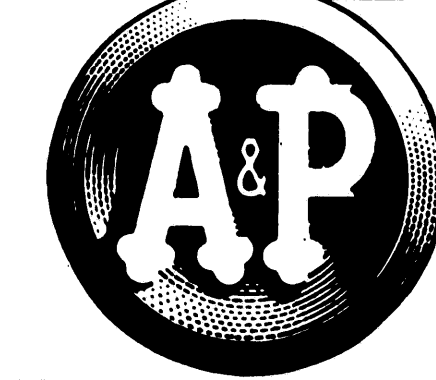

James R. Gascon, Rte. 1, Escanaba, was ticketed by the sheriff's department for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead when his car struck the rear of an auto driven by Shelby J. LaBombard, St. Clare Shores, Wednesday at 7:20 a. m. on County Road 512 near Danforth.

An Analysis Of U.S. Policy:

Viet Nam: Product Of Decisions

EDITOR'S NOTE — In and out of Congress, questions are being raised as to just how the United States got into the present situation in Viet Nam, and what is the legal basis for its actions. In the following analysis, these issues are explored by John M. Hightower, Pulitzer Prize winning reporter of The Associated Press.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the spreading Senate debate over Vietnamese war policy, the hawks and the doves agree on one issue: They feel the United States is drifting into a bigger and more dangerous conflict and they want to know what President Johnson plans to do about it.

ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

But it is also a challenge to the meaning of 10 years of violent history. For U.S. intervention in Viet Nam has built from the beginning a record of disappointed hopes, rising costs and drift into a war both dangerous and undeclared.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, an critic of Johnson's policies, told Secretary of State Dean Rusk a few days ago that he doubted the existence of an adequate legal base for what the United States is doing in Viet Nam, going back to the start of the policy 10 years ago.

Yet Fulbright said that the raising of questions does not necessarily mean opposition to policy but primarily a desire for clarification.

Asks Clarification
"There is a lack of understanding of the situation in Viet Nam," Fulbright said. "All I am asking for is a clarification of United States policy."

Behind some of the senatorial attacks on Johnson's policy seems to lie concern over the fact that the shooting conflict has never been declared by Congress as a war, is not being fought under United Nations sponsorship as was the war in Korea, and involves an open-ended commitment which could mean war with Communist China some day, perhaps even nuclear war with the Soviet Union.

Johnson has every confidence — as he has made clear publicly and privately — that he has all the authority he needs to conduct military operations and commit more and more forces as he judges necessary. He also recognizes that Congress has the power to deny its approval of what he does and to withhold money.

But administration officials generally see the leadership issue as posed in more subtle terms. Some at least believe the debate now developing may help to clarify policy and meet unspoken but presumably widespread concern among the citizenry at large.

Policy Uncertain
The situation which Johnson faces, however, is one known also to his predecessors. The Vietnamese policy has always been full of uncertainties.

It began in 1954 when the Viet Minh rebels, including today's Communist leaders in North Viet Nam, finally defeated French forces and put an end to French control. The United States had given arms aid to the French and the Eisenhower administration considered, but finally withheld, actual combat support.

In the beginning Washington's mood was one of determination not to lose any more territory to Communist control. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles held the "domino theory" that a loss of all Viet Nam would lead to the loss of other countries in the area.

With the 1954 Geneva peace settlement, Viet Nam was divided between pro-Communists ruling at Hanoi in the North and the U.S.-supported government in the South. The U.S. support was small at that time, 1954-55. It consisted of financial assistance and limited military help in building up defense forces, at the request of the South Vietnamese government. The U.S. military assistance mission started out at 327 officers and men. Today more than 197,000 American troops are engaged in Viet Nam.

Four Major Moves
In the enormous leap, over a decade, from the initial military advisory mission to the present expeditionary force, four presidential decisions were of overriding importance:

1. The first was the initial determination by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to support the regime of premier, later president, Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam. Following the Geneva settlements in the spring — which the United States supported but did not sign — Eisenhower wrote Diem that the United States would thereafter give aid directly to the government of South Viet Nam instead of through the French. It was generally understood that this was another move in the general policy of containing communism.

2. The next great decision was made by President John F. Kennedy in December 1961. The Communist forces, which had first gone underground or gone north and later launched a terror campaign in South Viet Nam, had by then started the guerrilla warfare. Kennedy's decision was to expand greatly the U.S. military assistance effort and to put U.S. aircraft into operation in support of Vietnamese ground troops. Thus Americans began shortly to be involved in combat actions though on a small scale and technically as "advisers."

3. President Johnson made the third big decision. That was to send American combat units into South Viet Nam in increasing numbers, with a reported target level at that time at 125,000 men before the end of 1965. The level was several times increased as the Viet Cong forces and North Viet Nam also enlarged their efforts.

4. The fourth decision, also made by Johnson, was to bomb North Viet Nam starting Feb. 7, 1965. This radically changed the terms of the war by directly threatening the existence of a Communist state with close ties to Red China and the Soviet Union. At the same time it radically reversed dying morale in South Viet Nam and was one of the acts which probably prevented a Communist victory in the South within a few months.

Have Profound Effect
Each of those decisions and many others by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson had a profound effect on the future development of the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia. Each was also marked by a hope that it would be enough to turn the tide, and thus each was followed by a sense of shock or disappointment.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been more severely criticized on this point than any other official because at one point McNamara thought the Communist threat could be brought under control and reduction of U.S. forces started by the end of last year.

Each successive crisis in the Vietnamese struggle has been accompanied or followed by soul-searching debate in Washington over the course the country should follow. In the past year, as the war escalated, the issue of the President's powers has been raised many times. In essence the two sides of the argument are simple.

Power Question?

Johnson takes the position that he has had ample constitutional power as commander in chief to order military action in Viet Nam. Congressional critics argued that the Constitution vested in Congress the power to declare war. The State Department's position has been for many years that a declaration of war is a formality which brings many laws, national and international, into being and that in the case of Viet Nam this would be a handicap instead of a help.

The United States sponsored a defense treaty for Southeast Asia in 1954, committing this country and several allies, including Britain, to consult on protection of the area against Communist aggression. But the treaty did not take effect until Feb. 19, 1955, after the first U.S. commitments were made.

Johnson relies much more on a resolution which Congress adopted in August 1964, shortly after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents. Communist gunboats had attacked U.S. naval vessels off North Viet Nam and the United States retaliated by bombing coastal positions in North Viet Nam.

The resolution stated that Congress "approves and supports" the determination of the President "as commander in chief" to take all necessary measures to repel attacks against U.S. forces "and to prevent further aggression."

Resolution Debated
Fulbright, who was strategist for the resolution in the Senate, took the position at the time that it neither expanded nor limited the President's powers under the Constitution. The administration has argued since that its real purpose was to show congressional support for the President's source in Viet Nam and this has provided a basis for all the President has done since.

The U.S. position under Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson has been that Communist aggression repeatedly created the challenges to which the United States reacted.

When the war with France ended and Viet Nam was divided, an estimated 40,000 Viet Minh troops of Southern origin chose to go into the Communist North. About 10,000 went underground in the South.

There followed a period of growing prosperity and relative political stability until about 1958 when the Communists in the South mounted a large-scale terror campaign against village and provincial officials. This precipitated a crisis which caused Eisenhower to increase assistance to Diem in 1960. The size of the military assistance group was raised from 327 to 685.

Bombing Started

In 1959-61 thousands of the Viet Minh soldiers who had gone north began filtering back into the South and the Communist drive to take over the country began expanding into full-scale civil war. This led to a new appeal from Diem for help and Kennedy's decision in December 1961 to make a large increase in U.S. aid.

Last year President Johnson's decisions to send in U.S. combat forces and to bomb military targets in the North followed large-scale infiltration into South Viet Nam of regular North Vietnamese troops. This, coupled with an increase in Communist attacks and the political instability in Saigon, had brought South Viet Nam to the edge of despair and probable defeat.

In that situation the issue was resolved in favor of a larger U.S. commitment — the same way it had always been resolved in the past. It is this pattern which evidently worries many senators because they do not know where it will end.

They do not have any prospect of a firm answer from the administration, however. Rusk said recently that the questions whether there might ever be war with Red China was one for the Chinese to answer. He said it would depend on what the Chinese did: that the U.S. commitment to South Viet Nam was clear and unshakable.

North Central Sells Its First DC3 Aircraft

On Dec. 24, 1940, a DC-3 airplane identified as N17320, rolled off the Douglas Aircraft assembly line. The plane was destined to become the first DC-3 to be purchased by North Central (at that time, Wisconsin Central Airlines).

North Central purchased N17320 on Jan. 24, 1951 from Trans World Airlines, which had flown it 42,866 hours, 58 minutes.

N17320 flew one of the inaugural flights when DC-3 service was introduced by North Central on March 1, 1951. The aircraft flew regularly scheduled Northliner flights until Dec. 18, 1955 when it was sold by the company. After 14 years of service, the aircraft said farewell to North Central.

N17320 left without ceremony, but employees felt a twinge of regret. They realized the era of the DC-3 is swiftly coming to an end.

North Central sold the DC-3 to Houston Aviation of Houston, Texas. The plane has flown 78,267 hours and 44 minutes.

The selling of the DC-3 is in line with North Central's equipment modernization program. The company is phasing out all its DC-3's and replacing them with larger and faster Convair 440 aircraft. By spring, the airline will operate 90 per cent of its scheduled flights with Convairs.

School Library Plans Approved

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's $4.6 million state plan to provide library and instructional materials to some 8,000 public and private elementary and secondary school pupils has been substantially approved, reports Genevieve Casey, state librarian. She said only minor changes are needed before the funds will be provided by the U. S. Office of Education.

Cut Your Own Taxes:

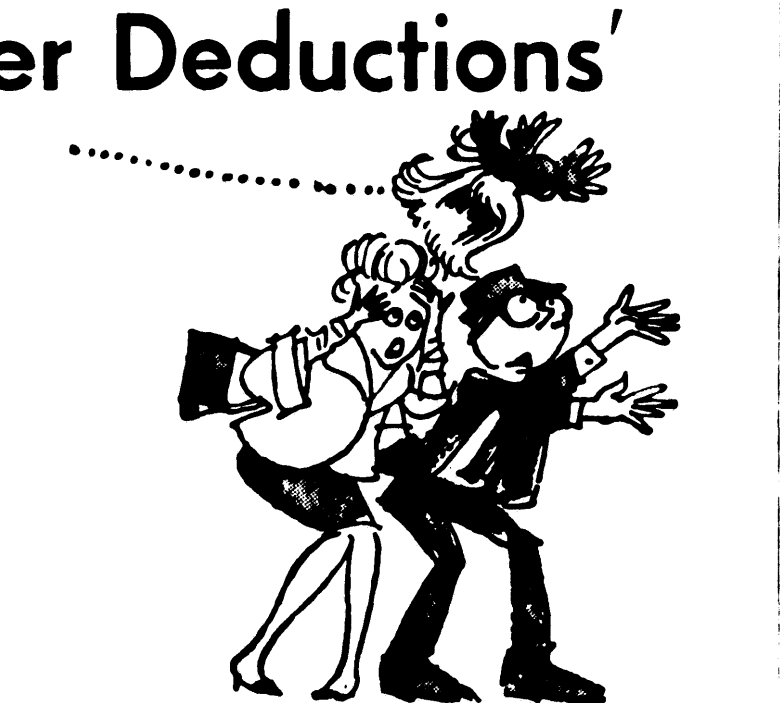

List 'Other Deductions'

By RAY DE CRANE
A catch-all category for deductions you could not classify elsewhere is found at the bottom of Part IV on Page 2 of Form 1040. It is labeled "Other Deductions."

- Child care expenses.
- Education expenses.
- Casualty and theft losses.
- Alimony.
- Cost of safety equipment, tools and supplies used in your work.
- Union and professional dues.
- Unreimbursed business entertainment expense.
- Fees to employment agencies.

"I knew there was a catch to it," the eager reader will probably say when he learns there are qualifications for most entries.

The child care deduction arises when a working wife, or a widow or widower, in order to be employed or to seek gainful employment requires outside assistance in caring for dependent children under 13 or other dependents physically or mentally incapable of self-care. The deduction is restricted to $800 when one dependent is being cared for, to $900 where two or more are involved. A working wife must file a joint return with her husband to claim the deduction and the deduction is reduced by the amount by which their combined income exceeds $6,000. From this it will be seen that if one person is being cared for, there is no deduction if total income reached $6,000 or $6,900 when two or more are receiving child care.

Casualty and theft losses are restricted to the amount of the loss reduced by insurance proceeds or other compensation received in excess of $100 for each occurrence. A statement must be attached to the return explaining the deduction.

Education expenses may be claimed if the prime purpose is to improve or maintain skills required in your employment, or if undertaken to meet a requirement affecting your continued employment. The expenses of education designed initially to qualify you for your chosen field are not deductible.

February Has Deepest Freeze

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Let us make snowballs together and throw them at time.
What else is there to do? It is February. The year is in cocoon.
In February, everything's in the deep freeze, paused and postponed.
The groundhog emerges, takes a yawning look at the wintry sky, crawls back into his den and starts snoring again.
Nothing grows on the suburban lawn, neither the forbidden crabgrass nor the hardy legions of the dandelion, whose yellow banners are still furled.
The ceiling of earth the floor of heaven, is as leaden and gray as a dying face.
In February the noses of old men drip and their eyes are rheumy; the cheeks of children are chapped and red, and their noses are runny.
The pulse of life is muffled in February. Everything creaks, grinds, whines, sobs, groans or squeaks. People are grouchy and grumbly.

Nature itself is quiet. The owl glides toward its prey on silent feathers as its talons reach for the straining rabbit. All that is heard in the everlasting hills are the sounds of snapping iceladen branches and the everlasting wails of skiers with broken limbs.
What else is wrong with February? Well, let's see:
If you are paid by the week, it has the fewest paydays of any month on the calendar. It is also the month with the fewest rainbows.
Few men get raises or promotions in February. No matter how well you do your job the boss doesn't notice it. He's down in Florida or the Bahamas playing golf.
All you have to do is to sneeze in a crowded bus and you make 46 mortal enemies.
In February you can't even go on a successful diet. The cold makes you too hungry.
It is true that St. Valentine's Day, the anniversary of true lovers, falls in February. But if you send her a sentimental card she is likely to freeze up, too, and remain unthawed until June. She can't wear a card on her engagement finger.
So come, let us make snowballs together and throw them at time.

Adult Anxiety Called Result Of Baby Grief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Depression and anxiety may bother you, and there may be nothing to be done about it, a Canadian psychiatrist says, unless some way is found for people to start life over—beginning at six months.
That's when infants may begin to suffer mental depressions severe enough to scar their later lives, explained Dr. Carl Stern, a psychiatrist from the Universities of Montreal and Ottawa.
The danger period, he said Tuesday, is between the ages of 6 and 18 months.
"Children then can be emotionally contaminated by their mother's moods, or by her absence," he said.
"Many people have pooped this idea, but studies have shown there definitely is a 'grief parallel' in infancy that goes far to explain depressions and anxieties in adulthood," he said.

Floyd Evans, Aero Official, 73, Dies

LANSING (AP)—Brig. Gen. Floyd Evans, longtime director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics and a veteran of three wars, died Wednesday following a stroke. He was 73.
Evans, who was aeronautics director from 1930 to 1940 and from 1946 to 1948, gained a national reputation for laying out the first statewide airport program in the nation in the early 1930s.
Services will be held Saturday in Lansing.

Seney

Word was received of the death of Verda Schmeltzer's father at Goshen, Ind., on Tuesday, Jan. 25.
Tommy McDonald of Pontiac is spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Smithson before leaving for duty with the U. S. Navy.
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McDonald attended a meeting of the Pictured Rocks Radio Club held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hastings at Engadine, Wednesday evening. Mrs. McDowell is serving as secretary and treasurer of the club and also edits the monthly news bulletin of the club.
David Morrison won two trophies at the Skido Races held at Manistique over the weekend.
Mrs. Alvin McDowell has been appointed chairman of the Michigan Week activities for Seney Twp.
The Home Extension group met Wednesday noon at the town hall, with seven members present.

Bridge Gains

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Vehicle traffic over the Mackinac Bridge was up 12.5 per cent last month compared to January 1965, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said Wednesday. The total number of vehicles was 32,111 compared with 28,549 last year. Total revenue for the month was $158,672, up 9.9 per cent over the 1965 figure of $144,372.

Grand Prizes Tonight!

Opening Night Full House Welcomes Cooking School

By JANET MARTIN

A capacity crowd was the scene last evening at the William Bonifas Auditorium for the Escanaba Daily Press, Upper Peninsula Power Company, Mel and Elmer's Super Valu sponsored free Cooking School, despite the inclement weather and slippery roads apparent throughout the area. Everything connected with the cooking school went off in fine fashion and one especially favorable comment that I heard was, "Wasn't it nice not to have to stand outside and wait, we just walked right in." Last night's session began promptly at 7:30 and Marvyl L. Wilson, home economist of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. was a most proficient and delightful teacher and her easy conversation as she prepared the various dishes was enjoyed as much as her expert cooking operations.

Dishes prepared at last evening's session were: Baked Ham in a Blanket, Patrician Potatoes, Green Beans with French Fried Onion Rings, Green and White Salad, Lime Delight, Calypso Bars, Hilbilly Caserole, Cranberry Nut Bread and Frank "N" Cheese Crescents. These dishes were among the hundreds of free gifts awarded during the evening to lucky persons.

Her assistants on the "stage kitchen" on which were arrayed the most modern of electrical appliances were, Linda Vukson and Ann Chenier, both home economics students from Holy Name High School.

Ray Hill of the Daily Press staff was a most able and entertaining master of ceremonies. His satirical wit was a delightful addition to an already fun filled show. Ed McCarthy, advertising manager of the Daily Press and his associates were in charge of the details of the school which included the distribution of all of the valuable gifts graciously donated by the Escanaba area merchants.

As an added feature of the cooking school, during an intermission, Harland Lippold of Investors Diversified Services, gave a brief but interesting and informative talk on, "Mutual Funds", concerning financial planning and financial security.

Tonight, the second and closing session of the cooking school will begin at the same hour, 7:30 and will follow the same format throughout. Mrs. Wilson will prepare new dishes, hundreds of gifts will be distributed once again and the climax of the evening, the awarding of the grand prizes, the Admiral Electric range, courtesy of Bonfeld Furniture of Escanaba and the natural ranch mink boa provided by the Upper Michigan Mink Breeders Association. All the tickets from both nights will be used in this drawing and you do not have to be present to win either of the grand prizes.

A large supply of gift cook books will also be available to everyone attending tonight's session.

See you tonight!

Future Teacher Delegates Plan Area Meeting

Representatives of seventeen Future Teachers Chapters in the Upper Peninsula will meet Saturday, Feb. 5, at Marquette High School. The purpose of the meeting will be the organization of the Promotion of Upper Peninsula Committee (PUP).

PUP is organized under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Future Teachers Association whose sponsor is the Michigan Education Association. The purpose of the Michigan Future Teachers Association is to acquaint high school students interested in teaching with various aspects of this field. Local programs, area workshops and state conventions are part of its program.

The Promotion of Upper Peninsula Committee is being organized to better acquaint Future Teachers Chapters in the Upper Peninsula with the programs and activities of FTA Chapters in the Lower Peninsula.

Delegates from Escanaba Area High School are Miss Marietta Carlson, president of the local high school chapter and chairman of the Promotion of Upper Peninsula Committee, and Don Nyquist, delegate. Attending from Bark River High School is Miss Carol Arkins, delegate. Accompanying the group will be Ken Peterson, FTA faculty advisor. Also present at the meeting will be William Owen, Michigan Future Teachers Association consultant, from Lansing.

A CAPACITY crowd filled the William Bonifas Auditorium last evening for the first session of the Daily Press free Cooking School. The school will be repeated tonight with more recipes, gifts and the awarding of the grand prizes, an Admiral electric range and a natural ranch mink boa.

MARVYL WILSON, home economist of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. puts the finishing touches on the Green and White Salad one of the featured recipes of last evening's cooking school. More delicious recipes will be featured tonight. (Daily Press Photos)

Campbell Heads Harnischfeger Credit Union

Three hundred members and guests attended the Harnischfeger Employees of Escanaba Federal Credit Union's 17th annual meeting Saturday night, Jan. 29 at Marco's.

At the business meeting President John Moore reported on the good year enjoyed by the Credit Union which had grown over $100,000 in total assets during the year. Semi-annual dividends of 4 1/2 per cent had been declared and a 15 per cent interest rebate.

Members elected Robert Jensen, Allen Kidd, Ralph McGeary and John Moore directors to serve with incumbents Jerry Campbell, Myron Carlson and George Pelaja.

Elaine Jensen and Ralph McGeary were elected to the Credit Committee with incumbent Eloise Koskub.

Attorney Arthur Neiman addressed the group on the subject of wills and answered questions. Dancing followed to the music of the Ray Cartwright orchestra and a buffet supper was served.

At the organizational meeting on Monday officers were elected:

Jerry Campbell, president; Allen Kidd, vice president; George Pelaja, secretary; and Robert Jensen, treasurer. Appointed to the Supervisory Committee were Henry Levesque, chairman; Orville Owen and Samuel Hoyt. The Credit Committee elected Ralph McGeary chairman and Elaine Jensen secretary.

Drug To Prevent Poisoning Deaths Placed On Market

Small amounts of ipecac syrup—a drug often recommended to induce vomiting in household poison cases—may be purchased in drug stores without a doctor's prescription.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration relaxed restrictions on the drug in an effort to save some of an estimated 1,500 deaths caused each year from accidental poisonings. The government estimates there are about 800,000 accidental poisonings every year.

Immediate availability of ipecac syrup and rapid treatment with it could mean difference between life and death in many situations.

The Food and Drug Administration warns, however, that the drug is to be used only under medical direction at time of an emergency and that it should be kept out of reach of children. Use is cases of poisoning from strychnine, corrosives such as alkalis (lye) and strong acids, petroleum distillates such as kerosene, gasoline, coal oil, fuel oil, paint thinner, or cleaning fluid is not recommended and warning is carried on packages.

The Food and Drug order allowing sale without prescription also provides that no packages larger than one ounce may be sold and that labels carry the following statement: "For emergency use to cause vomiting in poisoning. Before using call physician, the poison control center or hospital emergency room immediately for advice."

Michigan Marine Receives Medal

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP) — Marine Pfc. James W. Kehres, 18, of Monroe, Mich., recovering at Great Lakes Naval Hospital from wounds suffered in Viet Nam, Wednesday received the Navy Commendation Medal for Heroism.

Kehres was awarded his medal for action during an attack "against entrenched Communist forces." The citation accompanying the medal read: "Although he had already crossed the fire-swept rice paddies assisting in the evacuation of the wounded Marines, he once again disregarded his own safety to recross the open area to reach more of his wounded comrades...during this heroic act he was seriously wounded in the hip."

PARK APPROVED
FLINT (AP) — Voters have approved a 10-year, one-quarter mill levy to finance development and operation of a proposed 3,735-acre multi-million dollar park along the Flint River, northeast of the city. The unofficial vote count was 23,106 to 12,761. The millage is expected to raise $375,000 a year.

In This Corner

with Roy Crandall

Two more Upper Peninsula schools got into the wrestling act this week when Sault Ste. Marie defeated Newberry, 32-19, in the first match for both teams. The Blue Devils won six matches last week and drew two. That raises to eight the number of Upper Peninsula schools sponsoring the fast growing sport. Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Marquette, Munising and Ewen are the other active schools.

When the Green Bay Packer basketball team plays an exhibition game at White Pine Sunday, Feb. 6, the opposing all-star squad will include some famous names. Coaching the stars will be Bruce Warren whose Trout Creek team is one of two unbeaten outfits in the Peninsula. Among the players will be Dave Tucker, Ontonagon coach who was an all-Big Ten star at Minnesota; Dick Koski, former star at Wakefield High School and Northern Michigan University; Roy Luttinen, member of the great Mass teams which ran up a string of 59 straight victories in the late 1940's, and Martin Robinson who owns almost all the individual scoring records at White Pine High School.

The Marquette Iron Rangers will honor former hockey players from the Upper Peninsula at an "Oldtimers" ceremony Saturday night between periods of the United States Hockey League game with Green Bay. Among the familiar names expected to take part are the Bukovich brothers, Tony, Mike and Joe of Houghton, Calumet's Frank (Pappy) Gresnick and Clyde Berryman.

No official announcement has been made as yet, but Mike Mileski is expected to be retained as one of the assistant football coaches at Northern Michigan University where Rolfe Dotsch was named to succeed Frosty Perzack as head man last week. The former Eskymo athlete, who doubles as Northern's swimming coach in the winter, played football for Dotsch at Escanaba High as well as at Northern.

Dane Dominici, 6 foot 2 inch senior, scored 23 points to lead Iron River to an easy 84-41 basketball victory over Lakeland, Wis., in the first athletic competition between the schools. Iron River, leader of the Menominee Range Conference, has a 10-2 overall record this season.

Another team chalking up its 10th victory of the campaign this week was St. Ignace. Coach Gene Shank's Saints downed Rudyard, 81-73, to run their record to 10-3. Rudyard, recent powerhouse in Upper Peninsula Class B ranks, has slipped to a 3-9 record this year.

Kentucky Routs Vandy; Blue Grass Baron Eyes Fifth Collegiate Crown

By The Associated Press

Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, the nation's winningest active college basketball coach, had his sights set today on a record fifth national championship and his first unbeaten team in 12 years. The 64-year-old coach, known familiarly as The Baron of the Blue Grass and The Man in the Brown Suit, was in a happy mood after his unbeaten 1966 Kentucky team had routed Vanderbilt 105-90 for its 16th straight victory Wednesday night.

It was a remarkable repeat victory for the nationally second-ranked Wildcats over the third-ranked Commodores in that it came on Vanderbilt's home court in Nashville. The Commodores had vowed revenge after their 96-83 rout on Kentucky's home court Jan. 15.

Instead Kentucky put on its finest performance of the season paced by the 42 points scored by ouie Dampier, a six-foot junior from Indianapolis. The Wildcats riddled the Vanderbilt defense and at one time led by 23 points, 79-56. "Kentucky is undoubtedly the finest team that I've seen while I've been at Vanderbilt," said Roy Skinner, the Commodore coach. "And I've never seen anything to equal the shooting of Dampier. Kentucky's aggressiveness and speed seemed to make futile anything we tried to do to stop them."

Rupp, who now has won 736 games against only 150 defeats in his 36 years of coaching, received a remarkable tribute at the end of the game. The Vanderbilt home town crowd of 9,222 gave him a standing ovation.

Rupp, who already holds the most national championships, four, in 1948-1949-1951-1958, said his current team "hasn't yet won like" his unbeaten 1954

Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskymos get a chance for revenge Friday night when they entertain Menominee in a Great Northern Conference basketball headliner.

The Eskymos, riding the crest of a seven game victory streak, suffered an 82-65 trimming at Menominee in early season action.

That defeat is one of three on the Esky overall record and one of two on its Great Northern slate.

If the Eskymos are successful in avenging the earlier setback they will climb into a tie for second place with Menominee behind the Stephenson Eagles who are 4-0 in the loop.

The game here Friday night is the lone conference contest on tap this weekend. Holy Name is at Gladstone, Kingsford at Crystal Falls and Stephenson hosts Marquette in non-conference tilts.

The weekly conference statistics, released today by Ken Peterson of Escanaba, reveal that several Escanaba cagers have gained stature since last week.

Forward Paul Miller climbed to the No. 4 spot in the individual scoring race with 72 points, one back of Dave Bush of Stephenson. Topping the list are Menominee's Jim Uecke with 106 and Pat Miller with 85. Esky guard Rich Kuchenberg moved into the No. 6 spot in the list with 57 points.

Escanaba center Dave Nyquist jumped to second place in the field goal percentage department. The 6 foot 5 inch junior has hit on 16 of 27 shots for a .593 figure. Bob Mellinger of Stephenson is the conference deadeye, hitting 62 per cent of his shots with 23 of 37. Jim Boyle of the Eskymos is third in the accuracy department with a .463 percentage. Kuchenberg is seventh, Miller eighth and Bob Haack 10th.

Escanaba's top performer in the rebounding department is Bernie Larson with 37, good for fifth in the conference list. Boyle and Myrvall are also among the top 10.

Miller is Escanaba's best free throw shooter in conference games to date with 12 of 17 for 70 per cent. Bush of Stephenson tops the list with 15 of 18.

Kuchenberg is Escanaba's assist leader with 11, good for sixth place in the conference ratings.

Non-Conference Games

The Great Lakes Conference race heads into the home stretch this weekend with a flurry of action for the front running quints.

Ishteping puts its 6-1 record on the line against the Soo Blue Devils in one of the key contests Friday night.

If Soo can stop the Hematite express, it will open the door for the challenging Munising and Manistique teams. Both Munising and Manistique have lost twice to trail Ishteping by slight margins.

Both the challengers face tough weekend assignments, however. Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds must get by Newberry at the Manistique gym Friday night. Newberry handed Manistique one of its two setbacks this season, Munising travels to Negaunee Saturday night to face the team that engineered a 47-45 upset over highly regarded Stephenson last week.

In another league game this weekend Negaunee plays at Marquette Friday night.

Gladstone hosts Holy Name Friday night and Marquette invades Stephenson Saturday night on non-conference action.

PARQUETTE — Riding high with a nine-game victory string, the nationally-ranked Northern Michigan University Wildcats, America's highest scoring college basketball team, face the Ferris State College Bulldogs Saturday afternoon.

Game time is 1:30 at C. B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse. The game is one of two remaining home contests for Northern this season.

The Wildcats take to the road next week, with appearances at Illinois State Feb. 9, at Northern Illinois Feb. 10, at Minnesota-Duluth Feb. 12. Northern returns to Marquette Monday, Feb. 14, against Michigan Tech for its home finale.

Ferris or Northern has won the Michigan NAIA championship for the past eight seasons. Stan Albeck has taken the Wildcats to Kansas City five times while Jim Wink's Ferris quintet has made the trip three times.

Last season the teams played each other four times. NMU topped Ferris in the Northern Classic 85-69, beat them again at the Hedgecock Fieldhouse 95-90, lost at Ferris 93-87, but won the NAIA play-off game, also at Ferris, 67-61.

The Bulldogs have had rough going this season, winning three of 13. But six of their losses have been by 10 points or less.

Meanwhile, Northern has run up eleven 100 - point performances in twelve games, and leads the nation with a scoring average of 108.7 points per game.

Packers Get $7,819 Each

NEW YORK (AP) — Each member of the Green Bay Packers will receive $7,819.91 from their victory over the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League championship game, the league announced today.

The Browns each will receive $5,288.83. The shares are the second highest in NFL playoff history, surpassed only by those from the 1964 title game. Cleveland received $8,052.82 and Baltimore $5,571.40 from that one.

The 1965 title game, won by Green Bay 23-12, grossed more than $2 million for the second straight year. Gross receipts, including $1.8 million for network radio and television, totaled $2,383,066.

The players' pool, 70 per cent of the net total, came to $825,659.26.

Baltimore, which finished second in the Western Conference after losing a playoff to Green Bay, divided its share into $682 per player while third - place Chicago split its share into $681.82.

Dallas and New York tied for second in the East and shared in combined money of $87,500. Dallas voted 50 shares worth $863.89, and New York 56 shares worth $767.41.

The Colts, by winning the Playoff Bowl, each earned another $1,200 while each Dallas Cowboy earned another $500.

TALL TALE—This unusual camera angle catches Cliff Hagan (16) of the St. Louis Hawks as he executes a behind the backboard layup. Almost as surprised as the photographer is Wilt Chamberlain (13) of Philadelphia.

Wildcats Climb To Third Place In Cage Rating

By The Associated Press

Northern Michigan, Cheyney State and Valparaiso made solid advances while Southern Illinois continued to hold a commanding lead in the latest Associated Press small-college basketball poll.

Northern Michigan and Cheyney each climbed two places, Northern Michigan to third and Cheyney to sixth while Valparaiso zoomed from 10th to seventh.

In the voting by 15 regional experts based on games through last Saturday, Southern Illinois was named the top team on eight ballots and collected 122 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Grambling held second place with 96 points. Southern Illinois whipped Ball State 69-50 for an 11-3 mark last week while Grambling lifted its record to 15-2 by beating Prairie View 95-86.

The Top Ten, with won-lost records through games of Jan. 29 and total points:

1. Southern Ill. 11-3 122
2. Grambling 15-2 96
3. Northern Mich. 9-2 78
4. Youngstown 13-1 74
5. North Dakota 16-3 69
6. Cheyney State 15-0 50
7. Valparaiso 14-3 49
8. Evansville 12-5 41
9. Cent. State, Ohio 10-3 23
10. Akron 11-3 19

Kalamazoo Nips Aquinas Quint

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo edged Aquinas 82-73 in nonconference basketball Wednesday night.

Kalamazoo led throughout, holding a 43-33 halftime lead. Jim Peters and Tom Crawford scored 17 points each for the winners, and Phil Sauman got 17 for the losers.

Kalamazoo now is 9-6, and Aquinas is 6-9.

Unknown Leads Bob Hope Field

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — There was a room at the top for a familiar face today in the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic. Most people would say, "who's he?"

As the second round of the 90-hole, five-round event began, this was the picture:

A man named Jack McGowan was in the lead with a six-under-par 66. McGowan, 35, is from Largo, Fla. His last tournament victory was in the Mountain View Open at Corona, Calif., in 1964.

Joe Taylor, another virtual unknown, was tied for second with a 33-34-67.

The more - famous players were somewhat behind.

There was Bill Casper Jr., the 1965 winner in the Hope, who was three strokes back at 69.

And tied with him were six other professionals.

Arnold Palmer, nestled in a large group at 71.

Ken Venturi was in an even larger bracket at par 72.

Par 72 exists for the four courses in play for this 90-hole challenge. The Eldorado, Indian Wells, Bermuda Dunes and La Jolla are the clubs employed.

Golf fans around the nation may be a little perplexed by the newness of the leaders.

McGowan has been a pro on the circuit for about five years, but no definite threat to PGA history.

Taylor is 45. He is strictly a pro from the Berry Hills Country Club in Charleston, W.Va., and six times has been the PGA Open champion of the state.

He plays only a few winter tournaments and is very happy with his club job.

At Besselink, tied with Taylor at 67, has been around. He is 41. He is the only man to win the Caracas, Venezuela, Open twice in the same year, very possibly because until 1965, this fixture was never played twice in the same year.

Besselink is very proud of this distinction, and he also informed golf writers that the course at Caracas is so close that golfers and caddies march single file, Indian style, from green to tee.

Comedian Hope, for whom the tournament is named, had a fine day kidding himself, the gallery and his ex-officio caddy, Phyllis Diller.

Rangers Tackle Green Bay Team In Puck Action

MARQUETTE — The Marquette Iron Rangers, their championship hopes somewhat dimmed last weekend, are preparing for a weekend series with the Green Bay Bobcats Saturday night and Sunday afternoon at the Palestra. Marquette had to settle for a split last weekend against the St. Paul Steers. League-leading Waterloo gained a game by taking two from the faltering Bobcats at Waterloo. Marquette, St. Paul and Rochester are tied for second place with 18 points, six behind the Blackhaws.

"It's still far from over," said playing - coach Ovie Brumm. "Waterloo has some pretty tough games left on the schedule, including four with us."

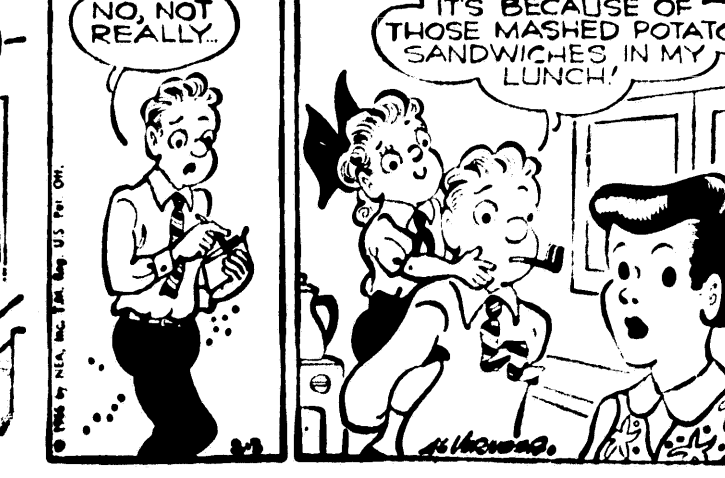

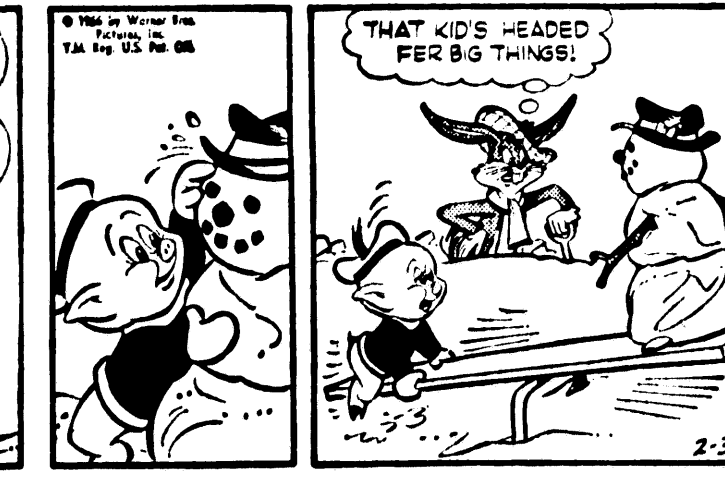

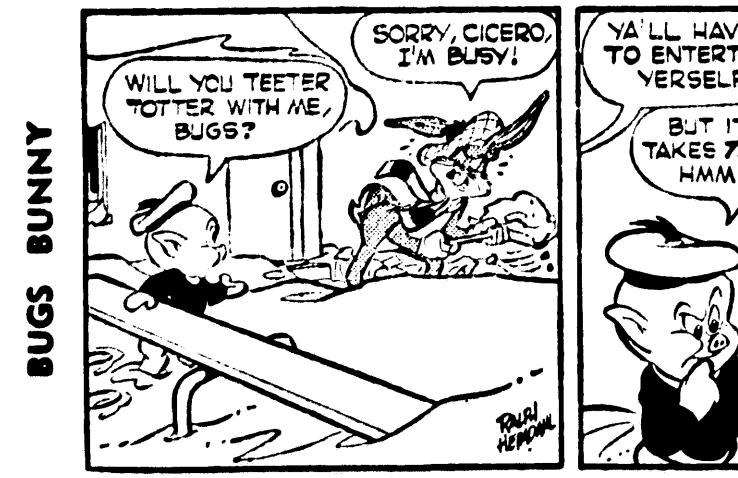

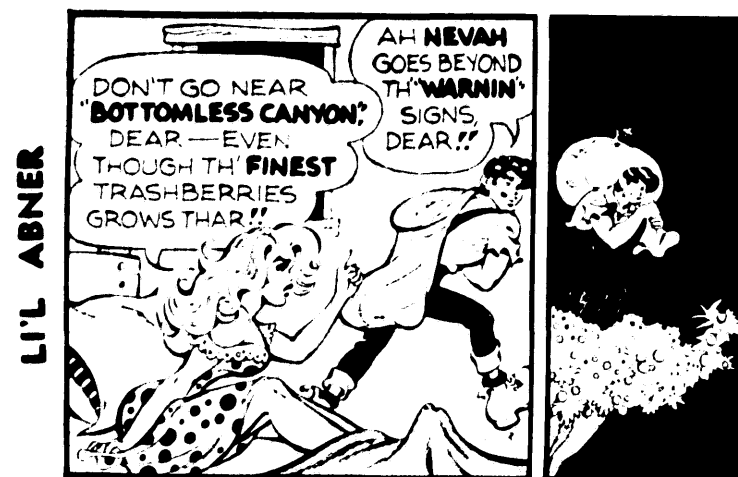

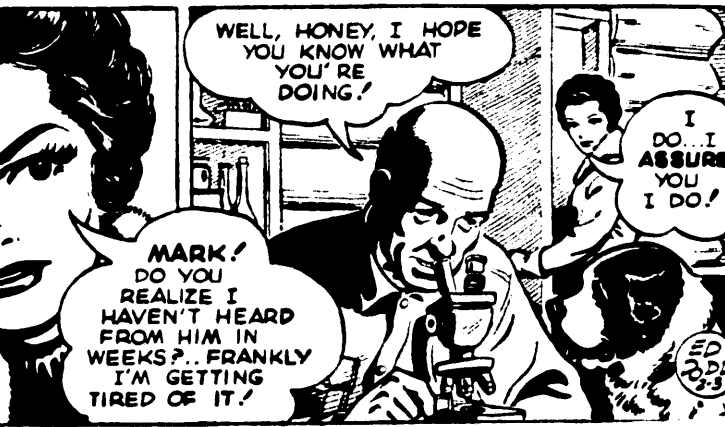

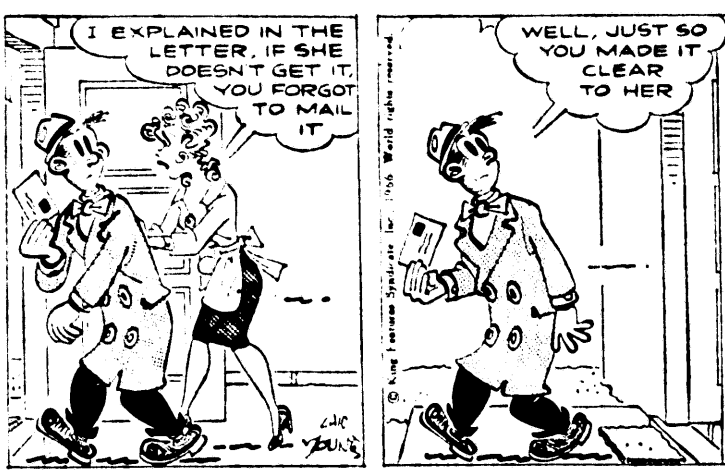

Physically, the Iron Rangers have two doubtful starters. Coach Brumm and Barry Cook, who team together on the blue-line, both suffered injuries last weekend and have not worked out with the squad this week.

Brumm has a bad ankle and Cook suffered a knee and ankle injury. If they're not able to suit up this weekend, their spots on the blue line will be taken by Bill Ostwald and Ron Johnson. Johnson played defense last Saturday, then came back to score twice on Sunday from his normal wing position. Ostwald also scored in Sunday's 4-2 victory.

Large Pike Are Speared

The Conservation Department reports come good takes of northern pike in the district during the week with a 21¼ pound fish speared by Ray Schaefer of McMillan the biggest. He was fishing in Round Lake.

Other big pike were reported by Hollis Marsh of Newberry, a 14¾ pounder from Manistique Lake; a 16¾ pound fish taken by Leo Holmstrom of Newberry from Manistique Lake, and a 16½ pounder from Millecoquins Lake by Billy Nixon.

Good catches of pike in the 20-25-inch class have been made at East Lake and Frenchman Lake and some good-sized northern pike were taken from Indian Lake in Schoolcraft County, including a 12-pounder. Northern pike fishing is slow on South Manistique Lake. Fair pike fishing is reported in Jamestown Slough and Gulliver Lake by spearing. Good northern pike fishing is reported in Brevoort Lake, where a 19-pound one was taken.

Good catches of yellow perch are reported from Hulbert Lake and Indian Lake and some big perch have been seen by pike fishermen on East Lake. There is little perch fishing activity on South Manistique Lake. A few have been taken from Millecoquins Lake. Some perch are being taken in Moran Bay and Snyder Lake.

On lake trout, reports of nice fish have been received from Sable Lake in Alger County. An 8-pound one was reported.

A 24-pound muskie was taken from Brevoort Lake in Mackinac County by Pat Grogan of St. Ignace. Some Menominee have been taken from West and East Bays at Grand Marais.

Smelt catches have been good on Highbanks Lake, with an occasional rainbow also taken. They are being taken on cut bait, perch eyes, and ice flies, from depths of six to 25 feet. Some smelt are being taken from Sable Lake in Alger County.

Ice conditions are generally good but new snowfalls of 6 to 8 inches have created slush conditions along pressure cracks and in areas where fishermen have cut holes.

Women's Club Plans Tea For Senior Girls

Guest day will be observed by the Manistique Women's club at its Feb. 22 meeting, at which a program on "Praise for Past Presidents" will be presented. Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur directs the program. Music will be by Carl Olson.

Members of the club have been asked to contribute a half book of trading stamps toward purchase of a silver tea service for club use. Stamps may be mailed to Mrs. Raymond Schmidt prior to the meeting.

The club at its last meeting voted to honor senior girls of Manistique High School at a tea, which it hopes will become an annual spring event.

Announcement has been made of a fine arts competition open to any club member in any of three divisions, drama, literature or poetry. March 1 is deadline for entries.

Briefly Told

Application for a marriage license has been made by Jack Arthur Musselman and Christine June McGahan, both of Germfask.

Matt Strom, 607 Michigan Ave., was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at 12:25 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Myrtle Gentz has returned to Marquette, where she is attending the practical nursing school at Northern Michigan University, after visiting with her mother, Mrs. Josephine LaVigne.

Grade Cagers

In elementary school basketball, the Chargers won 25-7 over Mustangs, Falcons, 16-10 over Jets and Colts 28-2 over Pickups. The Feb. 5 schedule matches Colts with Falcons at 8:30 a.m., Mustangs with Jets at 9:30 and Chargers with Pickups at 10:30.

Births

A daughter weighing 6 pounds 7¼ ounces was born Feb. 2 in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller of Gulliver. Mrs. Miller was formerly Judith Moore.

First U. S. flag with its 13 stripes was raised on Prospect Point in Somerville, Mass., in 1776.

Adult Class Enrollments Still Being Accepted

The community school program will continue to accept enrollments until Feb. 10 in both enrichment and diploma programs. Classes in bridge 1, English review, basic mathematics, public speaking, welding and bishop sewing have capacity enrollments. Bishop sewing 1 is offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

In the Manistique Center, English, speech, math, 20th Century history, typing 1 and bookkeeping 1 are being offered for credit. At Germfask, English, typing 1 and bookkeeping 1 are offered for credit. The Germfask school also is holding three classes in basic adult education.

The enrichment program in ski instruction has had good response. Junior high skiing had 22 at the first session Monday and the High School has had over 40 students indicating interest in forming a ski club. The primary purpose of the club will be to assist beginners in proper skiing techniques and safety. From this it is expected a permanent ski club will be developed.

Ski instruction began Wednesday at the Youth Center with Arthur Allen as instructor. A registration fee of $1 is charged for the six basic lessons. Adult ski instruction is being offered Thursdays at 4 p.m. by Edwin Thompson.

Retarded Child Group Installs New Officers

The Schoolcraft Retarded Children's Assn. Monday night installed Nick Babeladakis as president, Dr. A. B. Bernier, vice president, Mrs. Paul Larson, secretary, and Mrs. Francis Hoholik, treasurer.

Dr. Bernier spoke on medical aspects of retardation and stressed that love is much needed by retarded children.

Mrs. McKeever Dies In Florida

Mrs. Alice V. McKeever, the widow of the late John B. McKeever, died Monday, Jan. 31, in St. Petersburg, Fla. She was 83 years old.

Mrs. McKeever was born in Manchester, N. H., and left Escanaba for St. Petersburg 10 years ago.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Frank A. (Clarice) Haynes of St. Petersburg.

The funeral services were held at the Wilhelm-Thurston Funeral Home in St. Petersburg on Wednesday.

Schaffer

Mrs. Eli Taylor and granddaughter, Alice Gauthier returned home Sunday from Milwaukee where they attended the Ice Follies and visited with Roy Taylor. Mrs. Roy Michel accompanied them to Milwaukee and returned with her husband.

Friday, Feb. 4, Mass at the Sacred Heart Church will be at 8 p. m. with throat blessings after Mass.

A frog fish can swallow a fish almost the same size as itself because of its elastic stomach.

School District Consolidation Up To Voters

On Feb. 21, voters will be asked to decide whether Garfield, Newton, and Hudson-Hendricks school districts shall become one new school district.

Ways this consolidation will benefit the three school districts involved include:

1—The state equalized valuation will increase from $3,460,000 to approximately $7,526,000.

2—The resident students will increase from 313 to about 480. This will benefit the school system by an increase in state monies; a broader and improved curriculum; and a better

AMC Executives Given Pep Talk

DETROIT (AP)—Millionaire sportsman Robert B. Evans volunteered Wednesday to do anything he could to get American Motors back on the high road to automotive prosperity.

He then proceeded to back up his promise by giving a five-minute pep talk to AMC executives and stockholders alike at position to keep a high school in this area.

"It is essential for our school district to grow through this consolidation if we are to retain a high school in this area in the coming years," according to the Garfield Township Board of Education.

the firm's annual meeting. His basic theme was the firm has nothing to worry about—that its automotive line will overcome its temporary lag in the sales market.

Detroit's Evans' presence was generally considered to be the main reason the annual meeting was less hectic than last year. His purchase of over 200,000 shares of AMC stock in the last few weeks emphasized his belief AMC is basically healthy.

AMC Chairman Richard E. Cross told stockholders AMC, which reported a net loss of some $13 million for the final quarter of the 1965 fiscal year, made about $4 million in the quarter ending Dec. 31. This was well below the $9.5 million made in the comparable quarter a year earlier.
